Strike Steel Hike

Ackley Gives Inflation Warnings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration struck hard Saturday at a new increase in steel prices. Its spokesman added some barbs for recent auto wage hikes—and got in another plug for a tax increase.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, read grave inflationary impact into a boost in sheet-steel prices and into labor contracts reached by Ford and Chrysler with the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers union.

He called in a statement for "a return to more responsible behavior on wages and prices by both labor and management."

U.S. Steel announced Friday an increase of $5 a ton—about 3.4 per cent—on two grades of steel sheets. These types are widely used in consumer products from automobiles to small home appliances and such a raw-material price increase could be reflected quite quickly at the retail level.

Other steel producers have not announced their plans but "Big Steel" is the industry's largest corporate unit and normally is the bellwether on prices.

Ackley argued that not only is a steel-price increase unjustified at this time but the industry's "costs and prices are already too high—not too low."

An increase in prices is not the answer for the industry, he said, because:

"The way for steel to solve its problems is not to raise its prices but to lower its costs through improved technology and productivity."

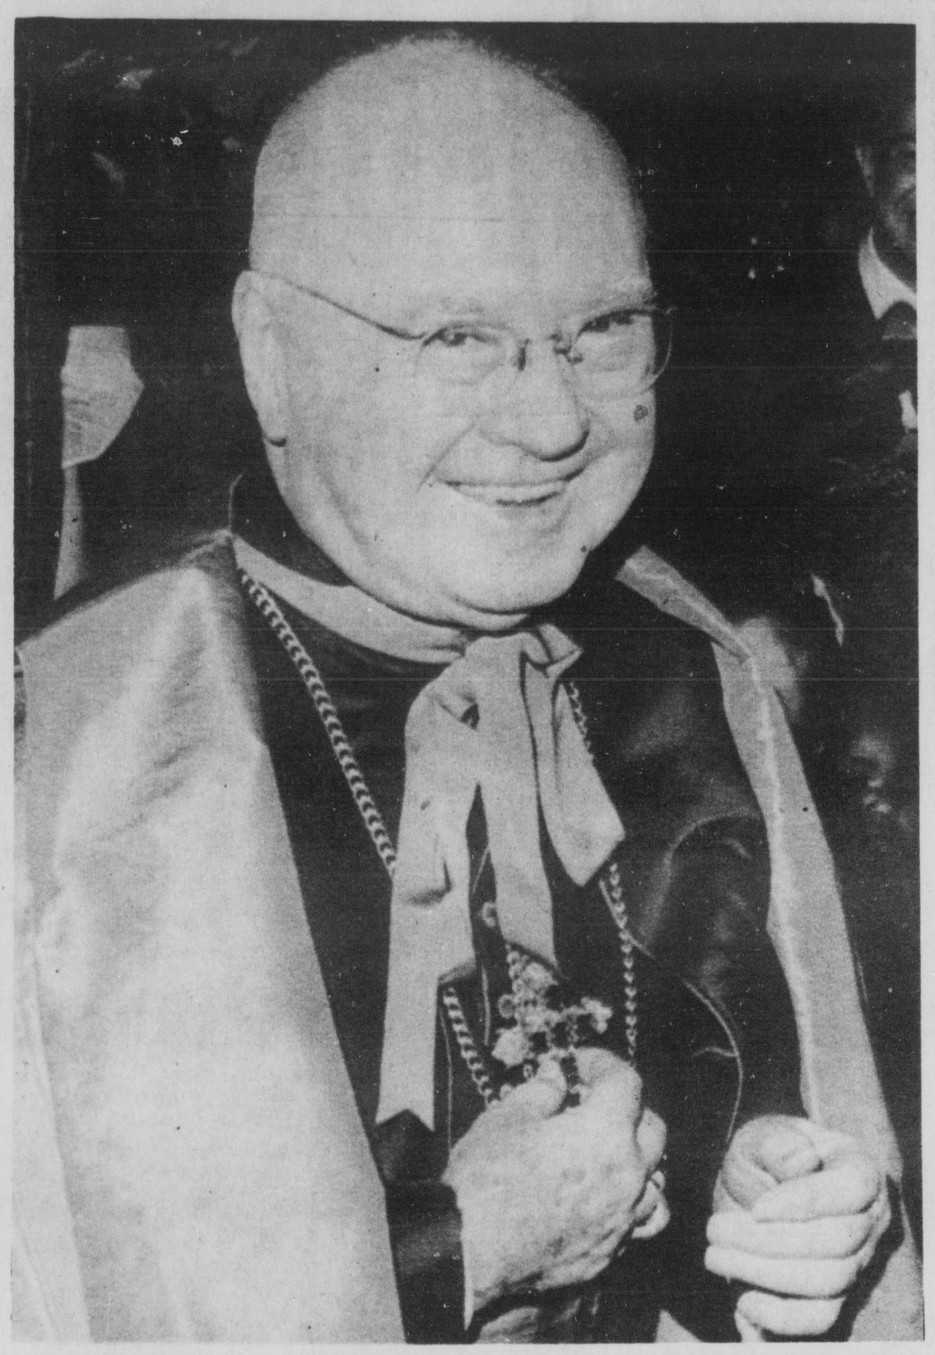

Linking the steel-price hike and the recently fashioned auto wage pattern—Ackley called them equally disturbing.

He added:

"Government estimates of the magnitude of this settlement place its cost at about 5 ¾ per cent a year—and more than 6 ¼ per cent year if the cost-of-living allowance reached the maximum permitted under the contract.

"The fact that the highly prof-

Cardinal Spellman

Cardinal Spellman Meets Death at 78

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, who looked like a cherub but spoke with authority as senior prince of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States, died Saturday after a "massive cerebral accident." He was 78.

Cardinal Spellman experienced some "difficulty" following a surprise appearance at a charity dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Friday night.

Members of his household discovered his illness Saturday morning. He died at 11:45 a.m., less than two hours after he was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in Manhattan.

Cardinal Spellman was dean of American cardinals and as archbishop of New York since 1939, headed the church's richest diocese.

He was a fervent theological conservative, a militant anti-Communist, an ardent patriot, a tireless fund raiser, an efficient administrator, and a firm disciplinarian and moralist.

His annual Christmas visits to American forces around the world were legendary. On one of them, last year, his call for an "allied victory" seemed to go against a plea by Pope Paul VI for a truce and negotiated peace. Cardinal Spellman later explained that he meant "victory for the sake of genuine peace."

His death brought expressions of shock and sorrow from the famous and the obscure.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said that "as an American and a Catholic, Cardinal Spellman always spoke and acted vigorously in support of the causes he believed in."

"He was a good man and the soldiers will miss him at Christmas," said Anna Andrews of Queens.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the National Council of Churches, said Spellman was "a living symbol of profound devotion and dedication to his Church and to his fellow Americans."

A year ago, after the Pope had asked for the resignations of all bishops over 75 years of age, Cardinal Spellman disclosed that his resignation had been refused by the Pope.

Speaking from his pulpit at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Cardinal Spellman said he would "carry on these responsibilities as long as I am able, to the best of my ability.

A chubby man, with a round, cherubic face and pale blue eyes behind rimless glasses, he was known as a skilled administrator and financial organizer. But he also had an artistic urge. He wrote poetry, and a novel, "The Foundling."

Of his managerial abilities, he once said:

"My practice is to let important matters be handled by people smarter than I am."

He made his archdiocese an economic buttress to the entire Church, and at a 75th birthday dinner at the Waldrof - Astoria Hotel in 1964, he announced a lump $75,000 gift to Pope Paul VI—$1,000 for each year of the cardinal's life.

But his sentiments, on the occasion, were spiritual. "Without God, my capacity is nothing," he said.

In 1966, he was honored as "Churchman of the Year" by the Religious Heritage of America.

Christmas Parade Is Postponed

The 1967 Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade, which was to have been yesterday, has been tentatively rescheduled for next Saturday, according to Gary Cooper, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rain, which lasted through Friday night, changed to hail, then sleet, and finally settled down to a good old-fashioned snow storm Saturday afternoon.

The parade was originally to have begun at 10 a.m. but was pushed up to 2 p.m. in hopes that the weather would clear. But at noon the weather was anything but clear and it forced the cancellation of Santa's arrival in Sedalia.

Cooper said Saturday that many people who had made what he called "fabulous floats" did not wish to ruin them in the snow and that the crowd would be sparse due to the weather.

Cooper said he would meet with other parade officials Monday morning to set a definite date for the parade.

Cooper said that the motorized sleigh which was to transport Santa into town would not be able to return to Sedalia next week due to prior commitments. But he added that efforts will be made to have the sleigh return to Sedalia at a later date.

Cooper further stated that there was no financial loss to the Chamber because of the postponement. No money had been paid to the company that owned the sleigh. Without the sled, Santa will ride on one of the city's fire trucks in the parade, Cooper said.

Weather

Clearing and cool Sunday with high 38 to 45. Clear and continued cool Sunday night. Low in the 20s. Monday partly cloudy and warmer.

Schedule College Night

Thirty-three colleges and vocational schools will be presented this Wednesday night at Smith-Cotton High School during the annual "College Night" program.

In conjunction with "College Night," the second Smith-Cotton PTA meeting of this school year will take place in the S-C auditorium beginning at 7 p.m. After the short business meeting of the PTA, the students and parents will be dismissed to visit any of the 33 colleges and vocational schools represented. Mrs. Claude Lambirth, S-C PTA program chairman, commented, "This is an opportunity for the students to visit three colleges of their choice and decide which they would like to attend."

The "College Night" program involves three half-hour sessions lasting from 7:30 to 9:00. At 9:00 refreshments will be served in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria.

Those schools which will be represented are:

1. Burge-Protestant Hospital (Springfield)
2. Capital Business College (Jefferson City)
3. Central Business College (Sedalia)
4. Central Methodist College (Fayette)
5. Central Missouri State (Warrensburg)
6. Civil Service Dept. (K.C. — Sedalia-WAFB)
7. Cottey College (Navada)
8. Culver-Stockton College (Canton)
9. David Ranken Jr. School of Mechanical Trades (St. Louis)
10. Draughns College of Commerce (K.C.)
11. Drury College (Springfield)
12. Electronic Computor

Judging Of Homes Will Be Dec. 19

The Home Lighting and Decorating Contest for Sedalia homes will be judged on Dec. 19, with entries to be in by Dec. 13. Coupons to appear in the Sedalia Democrat-Capital may be filled out and mailed into the Chamber office, 113 East Fourth, or entries may be called in to the Chamber office. Miss Erna Ann McCluure is the chairman of the contest this year and the plans were made at a meeting held Friday afternoon at the Chamber office.

Prizes for the outdoor decorating will be: first prize, $50; second prize, $30; and third prize, $20.

The judging will be based as follows: lighting, ten points; eye appeal, ten points; orginality, ten points; theme, ten points and overall appeal, ten points.

Those entering the contest are asked to keep their lights on until midnight the night of the judging.

Seven Cardinals Remain In US

NEW YORK (AP) — The death of Francis Cardinal Speolman Saturday leaves the United States with seven cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

In all, the College of Cardinals has 114 members.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston.

John Joseph Cardinal Krol of Philadelphoa.

Patrick A. Cardinal O'Boyle of Washington, D.C.

John Patrick Cardinal Cody of Chicago.

Francis J. Cardinal Brennan of Shenandoah, Pa., head of the Vatican's Sacred Rota.

Say Chinese Freighter Attacked By US Planes

Ground Fighting Is Light And Scattered

SAIGON (AP) — Communist China accused U.S. pilots Saturday of making a "savage" dive-bombing attack on a Chinese freighter in a North Vietnamese port near Haiphong. It said eight Chinese crewmen were wounded.

Battle reports from allied headquarters were scanty as the war appeared to be in another waiting lull. Ground fighting was light and scattered and monsoon weather again limited the U.S. air offensive over the North.

The official New China News Agency said bomb exploded above the water 11 yards from the freighter Hongqui No. 154 on Nov. 25 and damaged the vessel in 20 places as she lay at anchor at Hong Gai, 18 miles north of Haiphong.

U.S. military spokesmen in Saigon and Washington declined to comment. The U.S. Command had reported Nov. 25 that American pilots raided a naval dispersal area 39 miles east of Haiphong and about nine miles east of Hong Gai.

NCNA quoted the Chinese Foreign Ministry as saying American planes have attacked Chinese freighters in international or Vietnamese waters many times. It said the ministry issued a strong protest.

North Vietnam's foreign minister, Nguyen Duy Trinh, said repeated U.S. attacks on foreign freighters in Vietnamese waters "constitute a serious war escalation step." His statement was distributed by Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency.

In the war, B52 bombers dumped 75 tons of explosives on the demilitarized zone dividing the North and South, where two days of sharp fighting had raised the threat of a major assault from the thousands of North Vietnamese troops camped in the area. But U.S. Marine defenders reported no new battles along the DMZ.

Relative quiet was reported in the central highlands around Dak To, where U.S. troops brought the war's costliest battle to an end Thanksgiving Day by capturing Hill 875.

Neither a reinforcing battalion from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division nor a mixed Viet Cong-North Vietnamese force moved to take the offensive around the Bu Dop Special Forces camp near the Cambodian border 80 miles north of Saigon.

Dies In Crash

HIGH RIDGE, Mo. (AP)— A 17-year-old High Ridge youth died Saturday of injuries suffered in a two-car crash on Missouri 30.

The highway patrol identified him as Marion H. Wheeles, Jr., who worked in a factory in south St. Louis County. The patrol said Wheeles was driving east on the highway when he lost control on a cruve near Jefferson County Route PP and collided with a westbound car. The other driver was not seriously injured.

Discuss Parking Proposals

The City Council will be asked, Monday night, to act on several recommendations regarding parking meter proposals. One is that during the Christmas holiday season there will be no free parking. In previous years there have been times when the City waived the parking fee during those holidays.

A change recommended is to have the meterman write tickets during the noon hour. Since June 22, 1966, the noon-hour passed over due to a shortage in manpower when one meterman was taken from the department for economic conditions.

No raise in the fee for overtime parking tickets for the present.

Overtime parking tickets to be written from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

During peak business periods utilize the meter mechanic and his scooter to write overtime parking tickets when necessary, and at anytime it is decided a meter man is needed.

Meter Department to be closed on eight holidays and no tickets to be written on those holidays. The holidays are New Year's Day; Washington's Birthday; Memorial Day; Fourth of July; Independence Day; Labor Day; Nov. 11, Veterans Day; Thanksgiving; and Christmas Day.

During a meeting of the Parking Meter Committee attended by Philip McLaughlin and James Callis, representing the Downtown Merchants, and City Councilmen James Schumaker and Walter Jessee, and J.H. Marr, clerk of the department, other discussions were held.

It was recommended to secure the price of printing of parking permits and making them $24.00 for a three month period in place of $48.00 for a six-month period as at the present.

A discussion was held with reference to abusing privileges of parking in loading zones by privately owned autos, and not used for the purpose intended, which deprives meter department of revenue. If these zones had meters on them and if used seven hours per day, the amount would be approximately $100 to $106 annually per meter. Also limit number of loading zones and

Reward as Crime Deterrent

County and city residents are profoundly disturbed by intermittent eruptions of senseless property destruction by vandals and arsonists.

Last week end a peak of irresponsibility was reached when dozens of incidents were reported to law enforcement officials. Tires on all types of motor vehicles were slashed; window panes in schools and homes became targets, even a downspout; the interior of a house became a shambles at the hands of juveniles. Weapons include rocks, rifles, and shotguns.

If perpetrators of these outrages aren't brought to justice there will be more scenes of wanton destruction, not to mention possible bodily injuries. People are becoming riled up about this situation which recently extended to arson of county homes.

Among crime deterrents being discussed is a public contributed reward fund to be administered by the Pettis County Court. One suggestion is to raise a substantial sum—even as much as $25,000.

A sliding scale of reward amounts could apply to apprehension and conviction of those responsible for various types of law infractions of the nature the area has been experiencing too frequently.

Offering substantial rewards may not nail down all the criminal activity, but proponents of the idea say it is better than sitting around talking and wringing hands without any positive group action in the direction of restraining vandals and arsonists.

Readers are invited to express in letters to the editor constructive comment on the local crime problem and its possible solution by reward money or any other method as well as more active participation in the Crime Alert program of cooperation by citizens with law enforcement officials.

Hopes Fade For Quick Settlement In Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Hopes of a quick settlement of the Cyprus crisis faded sharply Saturday. President Makarios refused to give in to the Turkish demands he has been rejecting for the past four years.

U.S. special envoy Cyrus R. Vance spent nearly 12 out of the past 24 hours with the bearded Greek Orthodox archbishop trying to persuade him to accept the six-point peace plan designed to avert a Greek-Turkish war. But Makarios was refusing to yield.

Vance's package plan has been accepted by Greece and Turkey, but it is causing widespread protest among the Greek Cypriot majority on the island.

Vance, who returned to Nicosia for more talks late Friday night, conferred with Makarios until shortly after midnight. Discussions were resumed seven hours later. Following an afternoon break, talks continued Saturday night.

A dispatch from Athens said the Greek government appeared deeply concerned during the day that objections by Makarios might wreck the Greek-Turkish peace accord.

The Makarios government and the Greek Cypriots were stunned by what they considered to be a total surrender by Greece's military regime to the Turkish war threat.

Informed Greek Cypriot sources here termed the over-all effect of the package plan as amounting to a realization of the long-standing Turkish aim to partition the island between its Greek-speaking majority and its Turkish minority.

The package deal was hammered out by Vance in a quick succession of air trips between Athens and Ankara, Turkey's capital, earlier in the week.

Its main points: — The withdrawal of 12,000 Greek and 1,200 Turkish troops that arrived in Cyprus illegally following the outbreak of intercommunal fighting in December 1963.

— The demobilization of the Turkish invasion force poised on the Turkish coast, accompanied by a Turkish guarantee of the island's integrity and a return to the status quo on the island before the flashpoint on Nov. 15.

— Compensation for Turkish victims of the attack on the two villages hit by the Greek attack on Nov. 15. Twenty-five Turks were killed.

— Reduction of the Greek Cypriot national guard troops and military police units, now estimated to number 10,000 to 15,000, down to 2,000.

— Recognition of the existence of separate Turkish Cypriot police and Turkish Cypriot self-government in the Turkish Cypriot enclaves scattered about the island.

— Widening the powers of the 4,500-man United Nations Peace Force on the island.

Greek Cypriot sources claimed that President Makarios had no objections to the first three points but had expressed strong reservations to the last three after his first meeting with Vance Wednesday and Thursday.

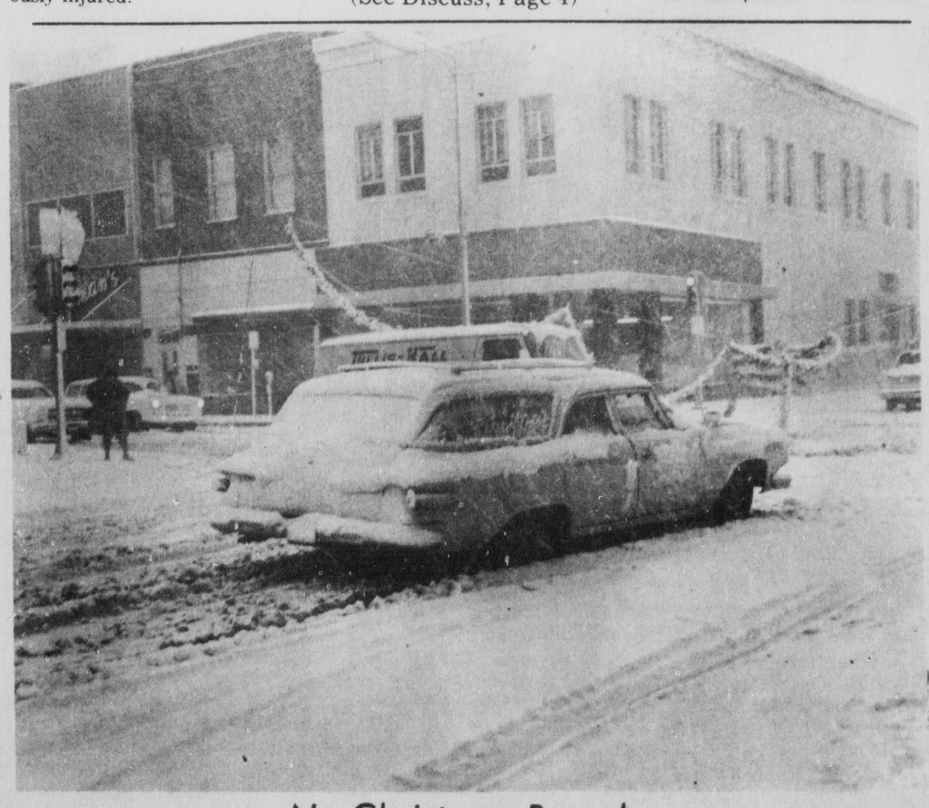

Snowstorm Results In Much Damage

The storm Saturday played havoc especially in the Sedalia area when power lines dropped in several locations and fuses were reportedly blown in substations, causing temproary power failure.

Department heads of the Missouri Public Service Co. were busy throughout Saturday and late Saturday night in clearing up problems in Sedalia. Saturday night a crew was sent to the area of Lincoln where power failure which causes a scattered problem developed. Checking was underway as to the troyble. It was reported a tree or a pole had fallen near Lincoln and created the problem there for a time.

The local personnel were endeavoring to clear up local problmes as fast as possible and due to the small crews, various calls were delayed in being fulfilled immediately, but eventually workmen were on hand. Street lights in Sedalia were out, and it was reported this loss of power was due to a blown fuse.

Reason for the department heads' doing the work is a strike which has been in progress since Oct. 30 by the electrical union controlling linemen and other electrical workers.

No Christmas Parade

This is the reason the Christmas Parade was called off in Sedalia Saturday. It all began with rain, hail, sleet and thunderstorms, then turned into a heavy snow. Traffic was stalled in most parts of the city around noon. Above scene is at Fourth and Ohio where the Christmas decorations fell down at the intersection and stopped traffic there. Bicycles To Reds

BERLIN (AP) — Ten thousand East German-made bicycles have been sent to the auxiliary man-powered transport system to the Communist war effort in Vietnam, the official news agency ADN reported. It said the 10,000th was sent off ceremonially from a factory at Karl Marx Stadt.

Club Notes

Sunnyside Extension Club met Nov. 28 with Mrs. John C. Ryan.

Members brought baby pictures of themselves for a guessing game for roll call.

A new slate of officers was elected as follows: Mrs. Robert McCarty, president; Mrs. Ronald Lane, vice-president; and Mrs. Mevlin Harrell, secretary-treasurer.

The program was "Family Life" given by Mrs. Ralph Withers and the foods lesson test given by Mrs. Robert McCarty and Mrs. Harold Gunn.

Mrs. Franklin Dorsey was welcomed as a new member.

Guests were Mrs. Bertha Burton, Mrs. John Talbot, Mrs. Sam Wollard and Mrs. Otis Thomas.

The Christmas party will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 19.

Flat Creek Extension Club met Nov. 28 at the Community House. A lesson on "Family Life" was presented by Mrs. Jim Gladbach, the theme of which was "Democracy Begins at Home." This was followed by a most interesting discussion.

Thirty outfits for dolls were made by the club, for the Salvation Army, the dolls to be distributed at Christmas.

A contributive dinner was served with Mrs. Ralph McCowan as hostess.

Mrs. Russell McFatrich presided over the business meeting with roll call answered with "Something for Thanksgiving."

The next meeting will be a Christmas party at 1 p.m. on Dec. 20 at the home of Mrs. Russell McFatrich.

Dog a Hero, Dies

WELDA, Kan. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Griffith were awakened early Wednesday by the barking of their poodle, Skippy.

The couple discovered their home was on fire. They ran outside in their night clothes in 30-degree weather.

But they couldn't find Skippy.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the woman who always compared her children. I have a problem that is worse. My mother keeps comparing me to herself.

When I brought home my last report card my mother said, "So you got a D in arithmetic! I never go a D in my life." Well, maybe she didn't, but they probably worked with Roman numerals when she was in school.

Last week I had to have a pair of boots. They cost $16. My mother gave me a 30-minute lecture on how it was when she was my age. She said her mother fed a family of five for a week on less than $16. Talk like this can make a kid feel real crummy. It's not my fault times have changed. Please straighten the older generation out, will you, Ann? — OUT OF TOUCH

Dear Out: O.K. Stuff some cotton in your ears, kids, this message is for your parents:

Dear Fellow Antiques: The one phrase that kids simply don't want to hear is, "When I was your age." In the first place they don't believe you ever were. In the second place they coudln't care less about how it was. Comparisons are not only boring, they are meaningless.

It's a different world to day than when you and I were growing up. While our kids have it easier in some ways, they have it tougher in others. One thing is for certain. I'm glad I'm not in high school today. I don't think I could make it.

Dear Ann Landers: The gentleman I have been going with for several years says a man and woman do not need a legal ceremony in order to be man and wife in the eyes of God. He claims many people who go together treat one another better and are more faithful than a great many married folks. Accoring to him the ceremony is a mockery and he doesn't want any part of it. Please express yourself. — SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD

Dear Goldie: It is true that some people who go together treat one another better and are more faithful than a great many folks who are married, but this does not mean that marriage is a mockery.

In our culture marriage is a part of the social structure. It also has built-in legal safeguards which can prove mighty helpful, particularly when there are children. No home should be without it.

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you for your adivce to the neighbor who wanted to know what to do about the seven-year-old girl who was being beaten repeatedly by her parents. Every time I read a story like that I cry my eyes out.

A person who has not experienced these episodes can't imagine what goes on in the minds and hearts of these unfortunate kids. Although I was only seven when I was removed from my parents' home I can still remember those beatings as if they were yesterday.

Please print my letter as another reminder to those who may be inclined to close their eyes to such situations simply because they don't want to become involved. Abused children need your help. They are powerless to help themselves. — FORMER VICTIM

Dear Former: Thanks for writing and now I'll repeat my advice: Call the police or the child welfare agency the moment the beatings begin. Parents have a hard time denying the charges in court if the authorities testify that they witnessed the brutality.

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

itable automobile industry can afford such increases is beside the point. Industry generally affords them without higher prices."

Apparently taking note of recent increases in the prices of new cars and the speculation that steel costs might bring another advance, Ackley said:

"Given the high level of auto industry profits and the trend of the productivity advance, it is hard to see why a price increase is necessary."

Accidents

No one was injured in a two-car accident at 538 West Saline at 1:10 p.m. Friday.

Involved were a 1961 Comet, driven east on Saline by Maude E. Barnes, 66, 538 West Saline, and a 1965 Buick, driven East on Saline by Isadore Kanter, 72, 604 West Sixth.

According to police reports, Mrs. Barnes was making a left turn into her driveway when Kanter started to pass her. Damaged were to the left front of the Comet and the right side of the Buick.

Kanter was issued a summons to appear in police court.

A parked 1966 Mercury, owned by Virginia May Howard, 32, 1308 South Sneed, was damaged when it was struck by a 1965 Chrysler, being backed into a parking space by Thomas Richard Snow, 56, 2242 West Third according to the police report. The accident occurred on the Taystee Bread Parking Lot at 10:10 a.m. Friday.

The left rear of the Mercury was damaged.

Accidents in Sedalia, continuing their rising trend, were again higher for the past month and the year as compared to last year's totals.

There were 71 accidents with 25 injuries in the past month compared to 56 accidents and 10 injuries in November of 1966.

A total of 730 accidents with 249 injuries and 5 fatalities have occurred to date in 1967, compared to 705 accidents with 186 injuries and 2 fatalities during the same time period in 1966.

One person was injured and a small child was thrown from a car Friday after an accident at 18th and Marvin. Involved were cars driven by Shirley Hawkins, 820 West Fifth, and Morris Hogan, 1612 South Wagner.

According to police, the accident apparently occurred because neither driver saw the other car. Hawkins' car was going north on Marvin and Hogan's car was going east on 18th and they hit at the intersection. A telephone pole was knocked down and Becky Hawkins, age 2, a passenger in the Hawkins' car, was thrown from the car but was apparently uninjured. Mrs. Hawkins was treated at Bothwell Hospital for injuries to the right arm and released.

Third and Lamine was the scene of a one-car accident at 7:48 a.m Saturday.

A 1967 Ford, driven west on Third by Rhonda Masters, 18, 1403 East Sixth, struck a stop sign. Miss Masters stated that she couldn't stop in time at the intersection, saw an approaching car and swerved to avoid hitting the other car. The front of her Ford was damaged.

Broadway and Center was the scene of a two-car accident at 9:46 a.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1963 Oldsmobile, driven west on Broadway by J. Lawrence Dyer, 59, Route 2, and a 1957 Ford, driven north on Center by Donald G. Moore, 16, Route 5.

Damage was to the left front of the Oldsmobile and the right side of the Ford.

No one was injured in a two-car accident in the 1700 block of South Grand Avenue at 4:53 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a parked 1965 Ford, owned by Herbert E. Aulgur, 1711 South Grand, and a 1965 Ford, driven south on Grand by Kenneth W. Townsend, 1105 West 16th.

Damage was to the rear of the Aulgur Ford and the front of Townsend's.

A 1960 Cadillac, driven east on Broadway by Amy J. Williams, 27, 705 West Broadway, struck the underpass on the south side when it went into a skid coming down the incline there. Damage was to the right front of the Cadillac.

Sixteenth and Thompson Boulevard was the scene of a two-car accident at 2:50 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1968 Chevrolet pickup truck, stopped at the intersection and headed south on Thompson Boulevard by Oscar August Reusch, Mora, and a 1961 Valiant, driven north on Thompson Boulevard by Ronald L. Richards, 17, 2007 South Harrison.

A 1959 Chevrolet, being backed west on 19th by Ralph E. Lindsey, 17 504 East 19th, struck a parked 1955 Ford, owned by Wymon E. Ricke, 404 East 19th. The accident occurred in the 400 block of East 19th at 3:11 p.m. Saturday.

A two-car accident occurred in the 300 block of South Ohio at 11:40 a.m. Saturday.

Involved were a parked 1962 Ford, owned by Zelena Stultz, 43, 312 West Broadway, and a 1964 Dodge, driven south on Ohio by Andrew C. Smith.

Damage was to the left side of the Ford.

One person complained of injuries she sustained in a two-car accident in the 900 block of East Broadway at 4:51 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1965 Volkswagon, driven east on Broadway by Edward B. Williams, 32, 705 West Broadway, and a 1958 Cadillac, driven east on Broadway by David Hartley Viles, 29, Knob Noster.

Amy J. Williams, 27, 705 West broadway, was taken to Bothwell Hospital by her husband complaining of neck and back injuries.

Damages was to the rear of the Volkswagon.

One person was taken to Bothwell Hospital as a result of a head-on collision in the 300 block of West Third about 9 p.m. Saturday.

Involved were a 1962 Chevrolet, driven west on Third by Charles Thompson, Wilson Trailer Court, and a road grader, driven east on third in the northbound lane by Calvin Salmons, 516 East 26th.

Lucinda Jennings, 812 West Fourth, was taken to Bothwell Hospital for treatment of a cut on her head, according to city employees.

About 6 p.m. Saturday two cars struck head-on in an accident on U.S. Highway 50 about two miles west of Otterville during the snow in that area. No injuries were reported.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $200 to one and $100 to the other and the drivers were reported to be, one from Belton, and the other from Kansas City.

The patrol received several reports of other accidents in the area but on arrival at the scene it was evident they involved one car which had left the highway, but were pulled back to the highway and continued on before the patrol arrived.

A report of a Taystee Bread truck was in a one-vehicle accident on State Route 52, six miles west of U.S. Highway 65 about 2 p.m. Saturday.

The name of the driver was not immediately obtained and according to Trooper Sam Morris, information on this accident would be reported Sunday.

Sgt. Sam Wollard, of the State Patrol, investigated the majority of the accidents in the area Saturday afternoon on Highway 65.

An accident about 3 p.m. Saturday on Highway 65 near 32nd Street resulted in damage to two vehicles but no injuries to the parties were reported.

Involved was a 1966 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Frank G. Epps, of Route 4, and a 1957 Chevrolet driven by John D. Hammons, 1805 South Harrison.

According to Sheriff fairfax who invesitgated the accident, Epps pulled from a driveway and the truck struck the left door of the Chevrolet. Fairfax reported Epps said he didn't see the oncoming car which was headed north due to the heavey snow fall.

Both cars were driven away under their own power.

Police Reports

Police officers on routine duty discovered two machines at the Auto-Teria Car-Wash, 1700 West 16th, that were damaged when thieves attempted to break into them sometime Thursday night.

Dan Pilgram, Springfield, reported to police that several items, valued at $19.50, were taken from his 1967 Plymouth about 10 p.m. Thursday while it was parked at the Old Missouri Homestead.

Three machines at the Autoteria car wash in the 1700 block of West 16th were pried open sometime Friday night by thieves, according to police.

Vandals or thieves did approximately $80 in damage at Kenny's No. 2 Laundromat, in attempting to rob several coin boxes sometime early Saturday morning. They damaged a soda machine, one soap dispenser, and two automatic washers.

Thieves broke into nine washing machine coin boxes and one soap dispenser at the Dutch Maid Laundy, 1811 South Limit, sometime early Saturday morning according to police. An unknown amount of change was taken from the machines.

Thieves broke into the LaMonte Laundromat sometime between 10:30 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday. Approximately $100 damages resulted to machines which were pried open. It was estimated $5.70 in money was taken.

Trooper Sam Morris of the Highway Patrol made the investigation.

Orville E. Gott, 1601 West Fourth, reported to police that he saw four or five teenage youths soaping his car about 8:45 p.m. Friday.

Sam Harlan, 622 West Broadway, reported to police that someone attempted to break into a garage at 420 West Seventh sometime Thursday night. A lock on one door was damaged and the facing on another door to the garage was damaged. Entry to the garage was not gained.

Keith Ollison reported to police that a generator and gasoline were taken from two cars at the Ollison Used Car Lot, 2809 East 12th. The generator and gasoline, valued at $13, were taken from the cars sometime Friday nioht.

W. R. Green, Route 2, reported to police that the door and wing glass in his car was broken sometime Friday evening. The windows were valued at $30.

Vandals threw eggs on cars owned by Raymond McNish and August Hayes in the 1500 block of East Fifth Thursday evening.

A door glass was broken in a vacant house, owned by Leo Kasdor, 215 East 17th. It was not known when the incident occurred.

Bulletin

Noel Billingsley Pratt, 38, who last year was reported to have attempted to advocate a revolution in the United States and move the U.S. Government Capital to Jackson County, is reported to have denounced his U.S. citizenship and taken citizenship in old Mexico.

Pratt, at liberty under a $2,500 bond to appear in the U.S. District Court, in a letter was reported to have defied the U.S. Government to extradite him.

According to William A. Kitchen, an assistant U.S. attorney, the bond was furnished by Mrs. Bertha Harsch, of Smithton, who stands to lose if he does not return.

Mrs. Harsch's son, Donald Eugene Harshc, 36, was convicted with Pratt last year, but placed on probation.

FOUR IMPORTANT REASONS TO SEE A PHYSICIAN.

The American Medical Association does not advise you to see a physician for unimportant medical problems. But, what problems are important?

1. If the patient's complaints or symptoms are too painful to be endured — get a doctor. Immediate relief is needed.
2. When an apparently minor symptom or symptoms persist for more than a few days or weeks and does not appear to be due to some easily identified cause — get a doctor.
3. When symptoms returned repeatedly for no recognizable cause, such as in headaches, digestive distress, etc. — get a doctor.
4. When in doubt about any ailment — call a doctor.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine and we will gladly deliver it without charge. If your prefer you may pick it up at our drive up window. We keep accurate records for tax and insurance purposes. We carefully fill welfare prescriptions and deliver or mail free of charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. Sorosis Speaker Is Named

Chester Danett, research chemist, Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis, whose philosophy has been so expressed in his photography that it has brought him fame, will be the speaker at Sorosis Monday afternoon at Heard Memorial Club House. His program is entitled: "The Image in Photography."

Born in Tshernigow, Russia, in 1916, Danett left there as a baby when his White Russian parents fled the Bolsheviks in 1919, and settled in Poland. Gradually they built a comfortable home there. But in 1939 Russia took over part of Poland, and again the Red Russians broke up their home. In the shifting Communist-Nazi tides of war they were taken first to a labor camp in Sudentenland, later transferred to Bavaria. When America invaded Germany, Germans did not have time to look for them and they succeeded in getting across the Czech border and were liberated by the Americans at Pilsen. According to the Yalta agreement the Poles, Czechs, Russians and other foreigners were supposed to be sent back home, but Danett's family managed to get into UNRA camp and was sent to Bavaria.

Danett felt too independent to want to stay in DP camp for a long time and decided to take a chance on being able to feed his family, his mother was also with them then, and he took a job as an automobile mechanic at General Eisenhower's headquarters.

Because their home was behind the Iron Curtain, they did not want to go back, and Danett was possessed with the idea of getting out of Europe. His dream was the USA but he was ready to settle for Argentina when the call on the US Consul got him and his family on the quota of Church World Service, a national Protestant organization.

With two weeks expense money from their agency they arrived in St. Louis knowing no one, without a job or place to stay, and with very little command of the English language. It took them a week to find even a sleeping room. When a landlady would find he did not have a job, and they were foreigners, they wouldn't take them. Then one woman of Polish ancestry did.

From then on things went better. In his second week there he found a job as an auto mechanic, and a few weeks later his wife was hired to teach Russian at Scott Air Base. With changes in business he had to change his job a number of times, then in 1950 he was employed as a laboratory technician at Monsanto Company where he still works.

Danett's English improved and he went back to engineering school at Washington University, and his wife also entered the university. After attending the university for five years he received his Bachelor of Science in chemistry and his wife received her B.S. in psychology and business on the same day.

In October 1956 their first baby was born and they named him Victor for they considered this a real victory.

His interest in photography began when his father gave him a camera when he was 11 years old, and it has become his way of life. Danett has used his camera to tell stories, using double exposure, sandwiching two negatives together, he has "a stable of cameras" and a bag of lenses.

His color photographs are achieved minus darkroom tricks, and often without special effects. His photographs combine technical skill with an artist's insight, and his work is one of creative imagination.

Danett's art has been acquired by Smithsonian Institute, the City Art Museum, St. Louis, and the National Museum in Washington, D.C. In 1963 he was awarded first prize for creative and experimental photography at Southern Illinois University.

Mrs. John Sneed, Jr., art and drama chairman, will introduce the speaker.

French Heads Twirl As Majorettes Make Scene

Army of charm comes to France.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS—(NEA)—Majorettes may have become an integral part of American folklore. In France they are very definitely a recent acquisition to public life.

There are today 3,500 majorettes in what the French so euphemistically call "the army of charm and smiles." The first group was formed around four years ago in Nice by Dr. R. Toussaint. He had appreciated the battalion of pretty girls heading a parade he had seen when on a visit to the United States.

His idea caught on and since then 80 groups have been formed, each of 10 majorettes or more. And, as in the USA, the time is coming when no celebration or parade will be complete without its advance guard of mini-uniformed girls.

Recently in the Parisian suburb of Saint Ouen the head majorettes of France held their first congress.

The average Frenchman who is inclined to think that the girls in the gay musical-comedy uniforms are just out for a good time makes a great mistake. "Recruiting is very selective," pointed out Guy David, 28-year old assistant director of the Fetes Committee at the Saint Ouen Town Hall. "The discipline is strict and the training equal to that of any amateur athlete."

No candidates wearing spectacles need apply, otherwise the girls are expected to be comely and graceful, stand at least 5-6 and be between 15 and 25 years of age.

After admission to the group a candidate is placed on trial for a month. This is followed by three months' training to find out whether she is gifted for baton-twirling or the drums. Then there are at least five hours rehearsals every week for the "troupe," eight for the "sergeant majors" who, of course, represent the elite.

The girls learn rhythmic dancing with a professor from the Paris opera and baton-twirling.

According to David, whose great ambition is to contact an American group of majorettes, their French cousins have evolved a routine which differs slightly from theirs. The French have introduced more dance steps on the march and their own version of high stepping.

Majorettes stem mainly from the white-collar classes but there are also a good number of factory workers, dressmakers and others.

Last year an electronics expert perfected a hi-fi drum (which precedes the majorettes) which sends out martial music and is relayed by a tiny transistor hidden behind the drums. All the drummers have to do is mime the drum beats. The music is that of well-known orchestras and far superior, naturally, to any local brass band.

In this area, at least, the French majorettes are miles ahead of their American counterparts, who march to the beat of a different drum.

Major and Mrs. Froberg

Assumes Duties Of Commander

Major and Mrs. Howard Froberg have assumed duties as commander of the Sedalia Corps of the Salvation Army, and, with their daughter, Alice Rose, 15 years old, have moved into the residence that the corps maintains for local commanders at 120 East Fifth. They came to Sedalia from St. Louis and succeed Major Marjorie Weber who has been transferred to St. Louis.

Major Froberg is a native of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Froberg is a native of Saginaw, Mich. Both have served in the Salvation Army for more than 21 years as officers. Mrs. Froberg is a third generation of Salvationist, her grandparents and mother having belonged to the organization in Yorkshire, England. Major Froberg's parents were also members of the Salvation Army. The two were married in 1946 after they met while he was serving in the Armed Forces. They assisted at Moline and later served as commanders at Superior, Wisc.; Emporia, Dodge City and Parsons, Kan., Hastings, Nebr., Detroit and Adrain, Mich., Quincy and Alton, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo.

We went into the Army because we had a definite call from God," Major Froberg said, and added, "If I were to choose it as a profession alone I'd probably choose something else."

Major Froberg has been a member of the Kiwanis Club for many years, his wife is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and their daughter was a member of Job's Daughters. Alice Rose is now a student at Smith-Cotton and likes the school and the town very much.

Record Price Is Paid For A Painting

LONDON (AP)—The record price for a French impressionist painting sold at auction nearly doubled today, as a London art dealer paid $1,411,200 for Claude Monet's "The Terrace at St. Adresse."

The painting was sold at Christie's by the Rev. Theodore Pitcairn, the Pennsylvania philanthropist, and his Beneficia Foundation of Bryn Athyn, Pa.

The price was nearly triple the previous best—$504,000—for a Monet.

The Agnew gallery bought the painting, but it was not known for whom it was bidding.

Monet painted the picture in 1867. He sold it for $41.

Correspondent Notes North Vietnamese Resolution

By AMANDO DORONILA
Of The Manila Times
Written for The Associated Press

At cock's crow every week day, factory and office workers in North Vietnam's capital of Hanoi assemble in courtyards for 15 minutes of mass calisthenics.

This daily physical ritual is one of the ways by which North Vietnam is bracing its people for what their leaders call the "supreme sacrifice" of a "long war."

There is little question that the North Vietnamese—from hotel clerks, school teachers and civil servants to factory hands, militiamen and regular troops—have conditioned themselves for such a war which, according to official Hanoi predictions, may last from 10 to 20 years.

War planning in Hanoi tends toward the most pessimistic and fatalistic estimates. When North Vietnamese leaders talk about a "protracted war," they take into account the complete levelling of their cities, including the capital and Haiphong port.

"Hanoi is an old city," Tran Duy Hung, a 50-year-old physician who has been mayor of the capital for 22 years, told me in his spacious office over cookies, a luxury in the midst of food rationing, and steaming Vietnamese tea. "We have evacuated more than half of our one and a half million people. We have made plans for a new capital. Hanoi is too small. It will serve as a cultural showpiece after the war".

Grim words are heard—and apparently taken seriously by the Hanoi regime and the people—about a possible American invasion above the 17th parallel that has divided Vietnam into North and South since the 1954 Geneva agreements.

One senior Foreign Ministry official, talking to me about this possibility, recalled what President Ho Chi Minh once said and compared the United States with "a wolf whose hind legs are already sunk in the mire" in South Vietnam. By invading the North, this official said, the United States would be "sinking its four legs."

North Vietnam is a young nation in terms of population. Of its 17 million people, 10 million—or more than 50 per cent—are between the ages of one and 30. Four million are between 15 and 30. The cream of the youth serve in the army and the militia. These were the ones born during the war against the French that culminated in Dienbienphu.

There is ample evidence throughout the country of preparation for drawnout guerrilla warfare. Factory workers, peasants and all those able to bear arms are issued rifles. They are given intensive training in guerrilla tactics. The militia—which provide the home defense units—have regular training camps hidden in the villages and mountains.

During night trips I made to the provinces, I could see militia units marching with rifles and packs to such camps.

Industries and population have been dispersed in small units throughout the countryside, not only as a safeguard against U.S. bombers but to serve the purpose of the "people's war" in which the entire population would be involved, along with the "people's army."

The North Vietnamese have learned to absorb the air war that has already extended to the North. They accept the repair work on bombed-out roads, bridges and railways as routine, and manage to get their fields planted despite the bombing attacks.

Hanoi and Haiphong have thickets of antiaircraft fortifications. Besides flak batteries ringing these cities, almost every building above two stories has some sort of machinegun nest manned by militia. What I saw from the ground tends to substantiate reports by U.S. pilots that they find the flak from Hanoi and Haiphong more intense than that encountered in the Korean War.

Hanoi-based diplomats estimate that there are 8,000 antiaircraft units in all of North Vietnam—concentrated largely in Hanoi and Haiphong—of which 5,000 are equipped with Chinese weapons and 3,000 with Soviet weapons.

The Soviet-supplied surface-to-air missile units are mobile. I saw some being moved from one place to another under cover of night to avoid observation from the air.

The American air attacks on the North have forced the North Vietnamese to adopt new ways of life, a somewhat mole-like existence, concealing themselves in the daytime and working at night. They have learned to take this in stride.

Concealed factories operate full blast. Oil and petrol dumps are as hidden as the factories they help to run. I saw women burying a huge steel tank, about the size of a gasoline tankcar, in a rice field on the road to Haiphong from Hanoi. Steel petrol drums can be seen concealed under trees along village roads, in groups of three or four. What workers are hauling in tin buckets from a well is likely to be fuel, not water.

Production is stressed as much as fighting, although the army reportedly is the preference of many of the youths, some of whom are said to have signed their applications in blood. City streets and country roads alike are dotted with big posters exhorting the people to produce and fight.

Next to weapons, the most prized pieces of equipment are lorries, rail stock and small generators. These last, imported largely from Eastern European countries, are used to run factories whose main sources of power have been bombed out. Every factory and shop I visited had a standby generator in case the big thermal plants are knocked out, as in Hanoi.

In some factories, power is supplied by foot, using wheelless bicycle frames installed beside machines. A lathe is attached and a worker pedals to keep the machines running.

Human labor is also brought into play in the countryside, particularly in the Red River Delta which encompasses 11 of North Vietnam's 30 provinces and raises most of the country's rice. An intricate dike system there keeps the water level in the river in check during the July-September monsoon season.

Dikes in the delta were attacked more than a hundred times this year, according to Vietnamese officials, and dike repair has a high place in Hanoi's scheme of things. Every household in the delta keeps slabs of earth on reserve for use by the dike brigades, which are given priority in the use of ferries and improvised bridges, much as fire engines are given the right of way in a city.

Like factories, schools and hospitals also have been evacuated to the countryside as a result of the bombings.

Hanoi can ill afford epidemics and every measure is being taken to avert one. Rescue and medical treatment after bombings is as prompt as possible. Bodies are quickly removed from debris, despite some danger from time bombs buried in the ground.

During the Festival of the August Moon—celebrating the eighth lunar full moon—which this year fell in mid-September, all of North Vietnam's five million school children were given health examinations.

Probably the most delicate problem for Hanoi is the handling of its main allies, Communist China and the Soviet Union, in the midst of the ideological war between the two.

My impression is that the Vietnamese have divided the Russians and Chinese in the North in respect to spheres of work and location, as a means of avoiding friction. I did not see any Chinese in Hanoi except diplomats, whereas Russian technicians, training the Vietnamese in the use of sophisticated weapons and machines, were in evidence.

On the other hand, outside Hanoi, at the Canal des Rapides, an extension of Long Bien Bridge, Chinese rail and road workers were seen by some journalists, one of whom told me that a Chinese sign was seen at the bridge and road being repaired after a bombing last August.

Diplomats estimate there are some 50,000 Chinese technicians working on bridges, railways and roads in the northern part of North Vietnam, to keep the supply routes from China open.

But these diplomats are convinced that the Hanoi government does not permit either the Chinese or the Russians to man guns against the "enemy."

"We can still handle the situation," one senior Vietnamese official told me, "and if we admit volunteers, it will always be with our consent."

A diplomat put it this way: "The Vietnamese do not want to internationalize the war. The Chinese could overrun their country. If they allow the Russians and the Chinese to meddle in their war, the Vietnamese would no longer be in a position to decide how to fight their war and where to fight it."

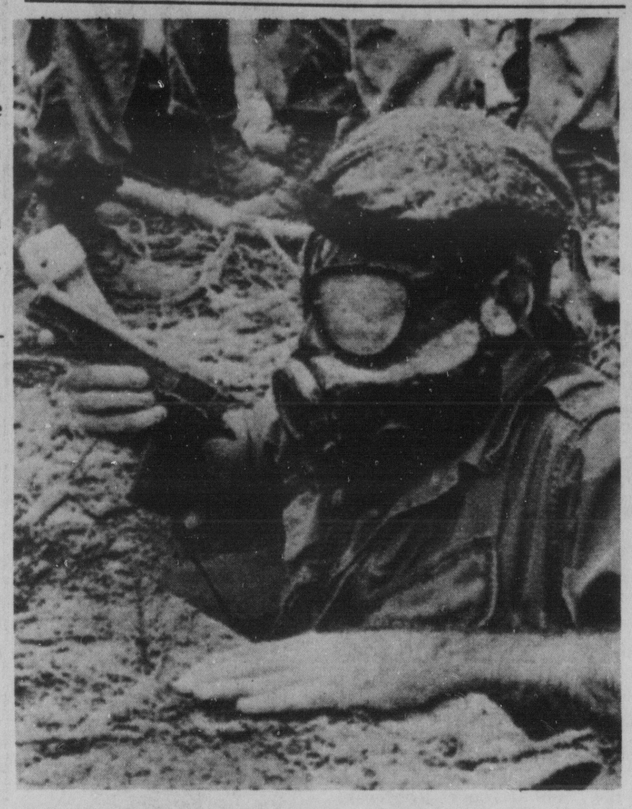

Ho Chi Minh appeared to me to be the key figure in the balancing act between China and Russia. There was not a single office or place in Hanoi where Mao Tse-tung's portrait could be seen except in bookshops, although there were portraits of Stalin, Lenin and Marx alongside Ho's. There also were no pictures of any contemporary Soviet leaders.

Ho was described to me as the conciliator between two factions within the Hanoi politburo. Premier Pham Van Dong was said to have elements, but Truong Chinh, the chairman of the standing committee of the National Assembly, was said to be pro-Chinese, while Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap—the victor of Dienbienphu—was reported to be Soviet-oriented, with a deep distrust of the Chinese. Le Duan, first secretary of the Communist party, is supposed to be allied with Giap.

Speculation about Ho's successor is discouraged in Hanoi. The official list puts the hierarchy in this order: President Ho, Vice President Ton Duc Thang, Le Duan, Truong Chinh, Pham Van Dong and Giap.

Some diplomats told me they believe that should Ho die, Hanoi will be ruled under a committee system before a dominant figure emerges.

Despite the reported split in the politburo, one effect of the American bombings seemed to me to be the solidifying of Hanoi's leaders behind a hard-line position against a negotiated settlement except on their own terms, which include unconditional cessation of the air attacks as a requisite for peace talks.

Santa visits C. W. Flower Co.

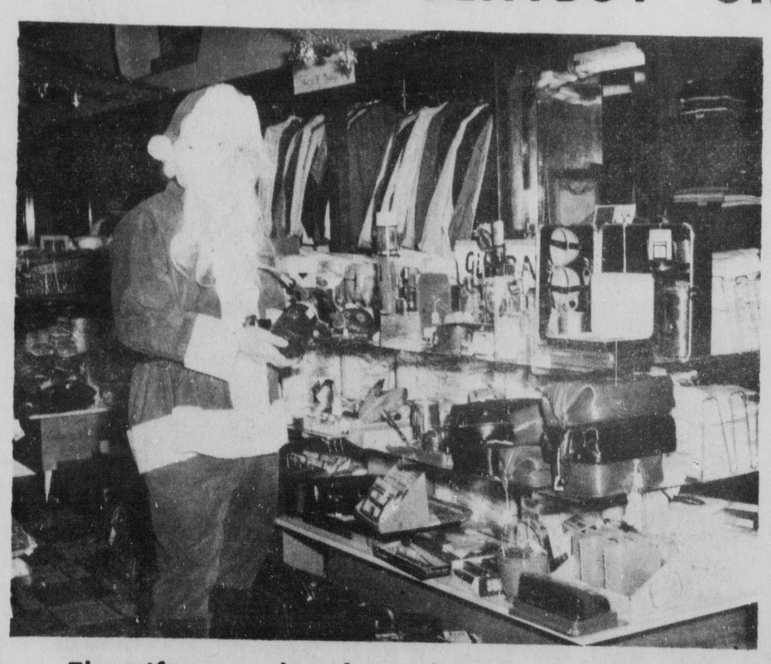

When Santa visited the C. W. Flower Co. he was particularly impressed by the Christmas atmosphere throughout the entire store. Of special interest was the newly enlarged department for Men's and Boys' Wear. In charge of this department is Mrs. Florence Austin, who is seen showing Santa one of the handsome Palm Beach sport coats from their large selection. Mrs. Austin assured Santa that she could supply many high quality apparel needs for the men and boys on his list.

Be sure to visit the C. W. Flower Co. for all your gift needs.

Accident Rate Cut In Britain

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The threat of curbside "green breath" tests under Britain's new don't - drink-and-drive law has cut road accidents, Scotland Yard figures indicated today.

Statistics showed a 42 per cent drop in night-time road accidents in London in the first month after the breathalyzer law went into effect Oct. 9. There was also a downward trend to other British towns and cities.

The law allows police to make random roadside breath tests in which drivers exhale into a tube filled with chemically-treated crystals. If the crystals turn green, the driver is asked to undergo further blood and urine tests.

Anyone found with more than 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 millitres of his blood—the approximate effect of about nine shots of whisky, depending on the individual—faces a fine of 100 pounds ($240) and a four-month jail sentence or both. Refusal to breathe into the tube means a $120 fine and the possibility of arrest.

"The reduction in accidents appears to be due to the breathalyzer," said Stephen Swingler, minister of state at the Transport Ministry. "It seems clear that the new drink and drive law is having some effect."

British pubkeepers already had been complaining about one effect, a decrease in business of up to 25 per cent. Hardest hit have been country pubs which depend largely on motorists.

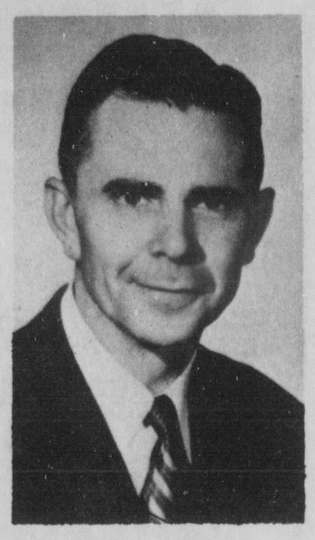

A police spokesman reported "noticeably fewer" vehicles on the road at night and offered these additional figures:

—Road fatalities in London during October dropped from 82 to 54 as against the total for the month in 1966.

—Accidents involving serious injury totaled 835—or 102 fewer than last October, and the number of people slightly hurt fell from 4,668 to 4,221.

Transport Minister Barbara Castle, the architect of the new law, contended it could prevent 18,000 to 32,000 road casualties a year. Mrs. Castle, incidentally, does not drive.

Spain and Portugal make up the Iberian Peninsula.

DR. HARLEY H. ZEIGLER, professor of the history and philosophy of religion at the Missouri School of Religion, Columbia, will address the American Association of University Women at their dinner meeting at Flat Creek Inn on Dec. 4 at 6:30 p.m. The subject of his talk will be "Spiritual Challenges in the World's Religions." Dr. Zeigler is a native Texan who grew up in Kansas. His education includes degrees from Southwestern College, Boston University Graduate School of Theology, Friedrich Wilhelm University in Berlin, and Harvard University where he took his Ph.D. degree in metaphysics. He has served as a professor of religion in several colleges, as a member of the General Board of Education of the Methodist Church, and as pastor of churches in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Ohio and Hawaii.

Little Commercial Use

Ivory in the tusks of the narwal whale of the Arctic is of little commercial use except for the manufacture of small articles because the tusk has a large central cavity.

Brave Under Fire — He Hates Killing, But in Midst of It

TRANG BANG, Vietnam (AP) — Jerry Greene, a conscientious objector, fought to get to Vietnam and now serves as a medic with the 25th Division.

The rangy North Carolinian hates killing on religious grounds and wouldn't pick up a weapon if his life depended on it. But he has no sympathy for the majority of anti-war groups in the United States, including other Negroes who advocate Black Power.

"I came to Vietnam to save lives," he says. "Now my buddies are artillerymen and it's their job to kill. After all, this is a war and the Bible is full of wars. I respect their thinking and they respect mine.

"A man can object to killing on moral grounds. The way I read the Bible, there isn't any exception to the law 'Thou shalt not kill.' But a man also has a duty to his country. And I disagree 100 per cent with Negroes who say we shouldn't come here because this is a white man's war. I'd like to see a lot of the militant protesters sent over here."

Spec.4 Greene could have escaped Vietnam duty altogether if he had chosen. Because of an ear condition, loud noises could mean permanent deafness. Thus Greene could have been exempted from combat zones. But Greene sought and got a waiver, packed a set of earplugs and shipped out with his artillery battalion.

Greene is a member of the Bethel Gospel Tabernacle and his draft board readily agreed to a conscientious objector status on religious grounds.

Deserted by his father at age 3, Greene says he was an alcoholic before he was a teen-ager. Now 22, he neither drinks nor smokes.

Greene has backed with raw courage his determination to save lives. During a night mortar attack on his battalion's forward fire base in the Ho Bo Woods, Greene leapt from the comparative safety of his bunker and raced outside while the shells were still falling.

Men outside were crying "Medic!" someone shouted through the protective ear plugs. The word means only one thing during a fight. Someone has been hit by enemy fire.

"But if I ever run into a Viet Cong out there and he's wounded, I'll treat him just like an American," says Greene. "They're human beings, too."

Top Doll Dressers Picked

Tree of Dolls

The tree of dolls, made of dozens of dolls dressed by women and girls of Sedalia and Pettis County for Santa Claus to deliver at Christmas. Santa needed help and asked the Salvation Army to see if it could get the dolls dressed for him, and it did, with a response so good that in no time all the dolls had all been picked up to be dressed. The tree of dolls were on the Salvation Army float in the Christmas parade. (Democrat-Capital photo.)

By Hazel Lang

Winners in the doll-dressing contest of the Salvation Army which was judged Thursday afternoon were: Mrs. Gene Merry, first prize with a bride doll, the dress made from a real wedding gown, white satin with lace embroidered with seed pearls; second place winner was Mrs. Ralph McCowen, Flat Creek Extension Club, with a doll with a complete purple outfit including a little purple headscarf; third place winner was Mrs. Hazel Hieronymus, and this little doll wore a little dress of yellow gingham.

When the Salvation Army announced that Santa Claus had dolls that needed to be dressed for Christmas gifts for little girls in underprivileged families, it had no idea that it would get such a response. Quickly they were picked up by women of the community as individuals and as groups, and most of them were returned early, some with more than one outfit. This is a help, for one doll was returned without being dressed and one of the women who was dressing other dolls gladly took this one, too. At the last minute there will probably be other dolls brought back, and if they are, the clothes are there for them.

Mrs. Leo Dick, Sr., dressed eight of the dolls; Mrs. Gene Merry, seven; Mrs. Ruby Fowler, six; Mrs. L. A. Perkins, four; Mrs. Hazel Hieronymus, six; Mrs. Clifford Rigsby, one; Mrs. Wilbur Mosier, two; Mrs. Joe Hanrahan, one; Mary Ann Holman, six; Judy Kitchens, three; Mary Miller, six; Donna Bruns, three; Carolyn Hansen, three; Mrs. Brock, two; Mrs. Reba Sogriggs, one; Mrs. Upshaw McKendree, three; Mrs. C. G. Wilson, two; Mrs. Aubrey Moore, one; Mrs. Darlene Coen, two.

The women at Buena Vista dressed 17. The Salvation Army had been so good to them, bringing them things, furnishing entertainment, having religious services, that they wanted to do something to show their appreciation. When the Salvation Army said Santa needed help, that was their opportunity.

Then there were the Future Homemakers. The little teenage seamstresses did a mighty nice job dressing 29 dolls. They not only made undies and dresses, but they also made hats and coats for some of them, and the dolls wore miniature fashions of the girls themselves.

Flat Creek Extension Club members, also, took on the project of dressing dolls, and dressed 19 for the Salvation Army.

Some of the dolls even had shoes tinted to match their costumes, and a lovely little "Miss America," or maybe a high school queen, wore a floor length green dress with a full skirt, a necklace around her neck and a crown on her platinum blonde hair. Her pink petticoat had two and a half yards of material in it, and her little shoes matched her dress.

On of the most charming dolls was a girl from the Gay Nineties era. Her blue dress had a bustle in the back, her picture hat the graceful shape of that period, was black with a bit of gold, two pale pink roses in front, and a black viel and her dark hair was styled as they wore it then. A tiny chain was around her neck and was fastened at the side with a chatelaine. A fur piece dropped low was held by her arms and she carried a lace like black bag.

There were costumes of all kinds, including a Red Cross nurse. One teenager wore a head scarf of color matching her coat, one wore a suit with matching hat and carried a shopping bag, and another doll carried a basket of flowers. There was one in a dancing costume, much imagination was used in the dressing of the dolls.

The dolls were used in the Christmas parade on the Salvation Army float. A circular piece of wood formed the base of a tree, and over a framework of wood, about six feet tall, was chicken wire which was stuffed with green crepe paper. The dolls were hung on with drapery hangers and later will be taken off for Santa to deliver on Christmas Eve.

It is a little doubtful who, when Christmas is over, will have had the most enjoyment out of the dolls, the little girls of today, who received them, or the little girls of yesterday, who dressed them.

Reverse Rail Decision

The Interstate Commerce Commission has reversed an earlier decision and approved the merger of five Midwestern and Western railroads to create a 27,000-mile rail network from the Mississippi to the Pacific Coast, it was announced last week. This UPI news chart traces the routes of four of the five railroads. The route of the fifth, a small rail line (the Pacific Coast Railroad Co.,) which serves several communities in the Seattle area, is not shown. (UPI)

News Briefs

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — Swarthmore College has called off classes for seven days while it ponders a report on its future.

Most students at the school begin their extra week's vacation today. Others will join faculty, alumni, directors and outsiders in reading and discussing the report.

Dr. Courtney Smith, Swarthmore president, said three study groups, composed of the varied researchers, will sit down and go over the college's education policy, curriculum, student life and library use.

The basis of the study, Smith said, was to ask, "What kind of college do we want to be in the generations ahead and what kind of changes must we make to achieve these goals?"

A $60,000 grant from the Danforth Foundation financed the study.

PAOLA, Kan. (AP) — William B. Prothe, 69, a school bus driver, died at the wheel of his bus Thursday moments before he was to have loaded the bus with about 40 grade school children.

Robert Banks, deputy coroner, said Prothe died of a heart attack.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Will Snyder will be cremated Sunday, after which the mourners will proceed to the Roosevelt Hotel for a party complete with bosa nova band.

The arrangement was announced by Peter Snyder, father of the 40-year-old advertising man who died of a heart attack Wednesday night.

"Those were Will's last wishes," his father said of the party. "He wanted everybody to be happy."

SEATTLE (AP) — A police officer stopped a motorcycle driver recently because the cyclist was not wearing a crash helmet as required by a law passed by the 1967 legislature.

The cyclist, however, insisted on a quick check of the new law. The law specifies that a cyclist must wear a helmet with the chin strap fastened, but does not specify where the helmet must be worn.

The cyclist didn't get a ticket. His helmet was strapped firmly to his leg.

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The pilots of U.S. fighter planes, putting missiles aside, are getting results with tactics and weapons founded on World War I.

During the close-in dogfighting which has typified most of the aerial dueling over North Vietnam, such sophisticated missiles as the Sidewinder, a heat-seeking rocket, and the Sparrow, controlled by radar, have proved disappointing to American pilots and senior officers alike.

The F4 Phantom, the hottest and most sophisticated U.S. fighter-bomber in combat so far, began the war with what was thought the best possible armament—missiles but no guns.

The missiles and the tactics built around them were mainly designed for shooting down enemy bombers which, because of their bulk and other factors, simply couldn't carry out the wild, air-show maneuvers of the fighters.

But U.S. pilots have yet to meet their first enemy bomber in the Vietnam war.

Time and again the missiles missed. The chief cause, one top U.S. fighter pilot says, was that in the violent twisting and turning of an "old-fashioned, Red Baron-style dogfight," it was too difficult to get into proper range and position to fire missiles that would lock into their targets.

The Air Force F105, a comparatively low, slow jet fighter-bomber, was racking up far more kills than the Phantoms flown by Navy and Air Force.

"We found we still needed the gun," the graying fighter pilot said. "Air Force planners who thought the days of the dogfight were over were wrong."

To overcome oversophistication, the Air Force wrapped a 20mm cannon system capable of firing 6,000 rounds a minute into a pod slug under the Phantom's belly. The "F" model of the Phantom will incorporate the gun system inside the fuselage. When F4 fighters at Da Nang were equipped with the gun pod their kills rose quickly.

U.S. pilots have shot down 98 MIGs over North Vietnam while losing 28 to the Soviet-designed interceptors. In all, 750 planes have been downed over the North, 648 to ground fire.

At its best, missile-firing combat is supposed to be precise, computerized and impersonal. The lusty dogfighters over the North have left fighter pilots' talk spiced with such phrases as, "Curse you, Red Baron." These are borrowed from the comic strip dog who daydreams of being a World War I pilot. The combat is searingly personal in dogfights, and pilots seem to like it that way.

Her Typewriter Becomes a Trap

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A typewriter repairman came to the rescue of Lois Duus, 20-year-old secretary, Thursday.

Miss Duus, who works for the Des Moines Register and Tribune, reached into her typewriter to retrieve something she had dropped there.

Her hands got caught, and remained there despite frantic tugging. A typewriter repairman, called to aid the lady in distress, removed parts of the machine and freed her hand.

Fear Legitimate Research On Drugs Is Threatened

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hue and cry over the use of LSD, marijuana and other psychedelic drugs has raised fears among scientists of control legislation which they feel might hamper legitimate research beneficial to man.

"I have a dream sometimes in which I'm at my microscope and get the eerie feeling that someone is looking over my shoulder," says a research scientist working at New York's Bellevue Hospital who wanted to use LSD in a farout experiment but abandoned the idea.

"I look up and he's gone. But I see his shadow going out the door. He's a policeman."

Some scientists cite reports of chromosomal damage and potential birth defects from LSD —though still subject of hot debate—as among pressures on lawmakers to do something soon in the field of restrictive legislation.

Dr. M. Robert Wilson Jr., a Mayo Clinic psychiatrist, recently told a seminar of science writers in St. Louis that because of "moral pressures" exerted on the federal government supplies of LSD for medical experimentation were virtually exhausted.

These pressures did remove LSD from the normal channels of obtaining new drugs for research. In the case of LSD, Sandox Pharmaceuticals—which developed the drug—decided it was a headache and gave its supply, amounting to 22 grams, to control of the National Institute of Mental Health in 1966.

What is the supply of LSD? How much research is going on?

As of Nov. 15, 1967, NIMH had dispensed enough LSD to researchers for 50,000 average human adult doses of 100 micrograms. It had on hand, 500 ampules, 19,500 tablets and 17.4 grams of bulk powder—the equivalent of 180,000 additional doses.

So far as is known, none of the legally dispensed LSD has emerged in the black market. That market seems well-supplied since it is claimed that once someone has lysergic acid the process for making LSD can be followed by a college student in a chemistry lab.

"There is no legitimate concern that the supply for research will be exhausted," says Dr. John Scigliano of the Center for Studies of Narcotic and Drug Abuse, which keeps track of the LSD. "If we need more, Sandoz has promised to supply it from Switzerland."

There are 50 LSD research projects being done under NIMH grants and at least 100 other investigators, who obtained supplies before LSD was listed as a dangerous drug, also are continuing research.

LSD is being studied to determine if it is of any benefit in treating disorders which are notoriously resistant to conventional therapy: terminal illness, alcoholism, schizophrenia, to name a few. It is also being studied to learn how it works and what it does to human beings: can it help in the creative process, in understanding the dynamics of sleep, in enriching the life of normal individuals?

One of the major projects on terminal illness is being conducted in Veterans Administration hospitals. Dr. H. Martin Engle, chief medical director of the VA hospitals, describes the project's aim as seeking to evaluate "the use of LSD to alter the meaning of pain and death and reduce the need for narcotics in those terminal illness cases suffering intractable pain."

Two major studies involving alcoholics are being conducted, one in California under the direction of Dr. Keith Ditman, and the other in Spring Grove State Hospital in Baltimore, under Dr. Albert Kurland.

At the Federal Addiction Research Center in Lexington, Ky., it is being used with group psychotherapy to try to modify psychological dependency in narcotics addicts. This also is the scene of one of 19 marijuana use projects in which the synthetic THC is being employed to study effects of marijuana.

"None of the LSD research projects, to my knowledge, has yet been brought to a scientific conclusion," says John Finlator, director of the Bureau of Drug Abuse Control.

As one of the most powerful mind-altering drugs LSD is of particular interest to behavioral scientists. Discussing its potential, Dr. Daniel X. Freedman, head of the University of Chicago's psychiatry department and one of the early investigators of LSD, says:

"LSD is one of a range of tools that the behavioral scientist can use. We need to know what the drug reveals basically about behavior—about how the mind is built and how it functions. What is very important is what the drug reveals about the chemistry of the brain is—or is not—related to behavior."

PERFECT follow-through is achieved by Debby Quinn in the National Bowling Tournament in Los Angeles. Debby, named "Heart Princess" by the White House back in 1959, had her life saved by heart surgery. Now in perfect health, she joined the tournament which benefits the Heart Fund.

Youth Power Congress Is Discussed

On November 24th a group of young people met at Flat Creek Inn as guests of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation to obtain information concerning the State Youth Power Congress to be held in Columbia, Mo., on March 9, 1968.

Miss Margaret Schowengerdt, Director of Young Peoples Program, Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, Jefferson City, and LeRoy Deles Dernier, Regional Fieldman, Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, presented information regarding the two Youth Power projects; Food Careers and Food'n Fun.

Youth Power is a non-commercial educational program sponsored by food industry companies and organizations who produce, market, process and distribute America's high quality food supply.

Miss Schowengerdt stated that participation in the Youth Power Congress gives teenagers an opportunity to discuss the vital importance of food, and the glamorous food related careers now available to the Nation's Youth. It is a fact that millions of Americans suffer from improper eating — either overeating or wrong food selections for well balanced meals. A high percent of the nations young people eat an inadequate breakfast. Also everyone must find a career. Planning now means more success later. Youth Power offers this opportunity.

Following this presentation lunch was served to guests from Cass, Saline, Lafayette, Cooper and Pettis Counties. Those attending from Pettis County were: Janet Mergen, Janice Chappell, Jeanie Grotzinger, Doris Smith, Karen Moore, Mrs. Larry Wilson, Mrs. Virgil Quint and Mrs. Cloyce Wilson.

All teenagers who reach age 15 by September 1, 1967 and not more than age 19 by March 27, 1968, and who have a scholastic standing in the upper half of their class are eligible to participate in the Youth Power Project. The local Pettis County Farm Bureau office, 605 South Massachusetts, or Mrs. Cloyce Wilson, telephone TA 6-5979, may be contacted for more information.

Opening day of the New York subway system was Oct. 27, 1904.

UN Interpreters Smooth Talkers

By DAVE SMITH
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — When French interpreter Yvette Simond told a meeting a year or two ago that one of the worst diseases in Africa was television, U.N. delegates were jolted at the news.

So was Miss Simond, when she learned it was really tuberculosis. The man she was translating for had said "TB," not "TV."

No harm done, though. No diplomatic feelings were bruised and the incident simply became an office joke to a staff that takes pride in its astonishing batting average for accuracy.

Over the two decades in which the United Nations has pioneered the art of simultaneous interpretation, a sense of the importance of the U.N. mission has infused its skillful linguists with a self-control and watchfulness that virtually banishes the possibility of a fatal slip in a speech.

It is worth noting that the only slips of the lips that have become local legend are funny ones.

Until the Nuernberg trials of 1945-49, such international organizations as the League of Nations used consecutive interpreters for their multilingual proceedings, sitting through everything several times, in French, English, German and Russian in turn.

A new breed of interpreters, appeared at Nuernberg. They could listen, translate and talk all at once, with listeners tuned in on private headsets in their own language while the trials were going on Nazi chieftain Hermann Goering observed grimly, "They're shortening my life." He was right; this fast, efficient and economical new system hastened by many months the end of the trials and the deaths of Nazi war criminals.

In 1947 the young United Nations began simultaneous interpretation of all its meetings, retaining consecutive interpretation, as a supplement only, in the Security Council.

Interpreters must have a mastery of at least three of the U.N.'s five official tongues, English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese, translating from two languages into a third. They may advance through four classifications, from a starting salary of $9,050 to a top of $21,900.

Gregory Meiksins, a former interpreter who commands all five U.N. languages and is now chief interpreter, says the most important quality is a broad general education. Familiarity with language through daily use, plus a good mind for economics, law, political science, history and literature, are better assets than a master's degree in linguistics, says Meiksins.

Dramatic flair helps, too. Ability to convey the mood behind a speaker's words—whether flattering, sarcastic, raging with anger or faintly miffed—is especially important in the diplomatic arena.

"The temperament of the interpreter dictates whether to use an impersonal tone—and many do—while others get carried away by the emphasis and intonation of both tendencies is best.

"But when you get a really good speech by a passionate speaker," he says, "very often the interpreter gets so excited that if you watch his booth you might think he wrote the speech himself."

One of the small triumphs in the behind-the-scenes business of interpretation came to George Sherry, now a senior officer in the secretary-general's office.

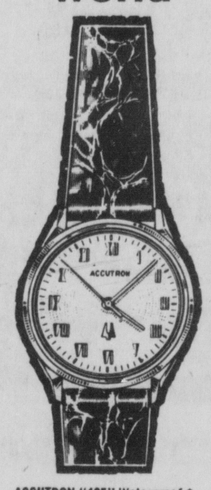

This was when the late Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky, attacking the Western powers, dipped into a work of Russian playwright Alexander Pushkin for the line: "The bloody boys before my eyes."

Sherry knew this would be confusing unless its source and context were explained—something he hardly had time for, since Vishinsky was nearly out of sight over the next paragraph. Sherry racked his brain for an English equivalent. Shakespeare popped to mind and Sherry quickly substituted Macbeth's line: "It will the multitudinous seas incarnadine, and make the green ones red."

Theodore Fagan, a 21-year veteran interpreter, once trapped himself trying to improve a speaker's imagery. "A Latin delegate spoke of a cat worrying a mouse," he says, "and I didn't like that.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

In Combination With The Sunday Morning Capital

Volume Thirty-Six Number 49 | Sedalia, Missouri, Sunday, December 3, 1967 | 70 Pages—Price Fifteen Cents

New Savings Association Addition

The new addition at the First State Savings Association, Third and Osage, is from the left of the dark center section. The new addition includes office space and future expansion room. The consturction work is being done by local labor with materials also provided by local businesses.

A Shoe Plant At Bland

Town & Country Shoe Co., Inc., Friday morning signed a lease-purchase agreemtnt with the town of Bland, Mo., which voted earlier in the week 249-1 in favor of a general obligation industrial bond issue to obtain the property Town & Country will occupy.

The announcement was made Friday afternoon by Henry Mayhall., general superintendent for the firm.

He said T & C had signed a 35-year lease agreement with an option to purchase the property, which consists of about 40,000 square feet of floor space.

The building was, at one time, occupied by International Shoe Co.

The unique feature of Town & Country's operation in Bland, which is located about 25 miles northeast of Rolla, is that the local company will be manufacturing a fashion, light-weight, low-heel ladies shoe under an exclusive English patent.

The shoe, according to Mayhall, is of a new construction design. Town and Country has been licensed by the English originator of the shoe to make the product here.

Under the original bond issue arrangement, it was understood that Town & Country would have the use of the building. C. W. Mathieson, executive vice-president of the firm, said Town & Country had been familiar with the area, town, facilities and building for some time. He added that the small community approached Town & Country on the question of occupying the building.

When Town & Country will begin operation in the new locality has not been determined yet. The Bland factor, once it is operative, will be the farthest shoe manufacturiing facility in the Town & Country complex from the parent factory in Sedalia.

Sedalia Drug Is Sold By Mrs. Bulkley

The Sedalia Drug Co., Inc., 122 South Ohio, has been sold by Mrs. Garnett G. Bulkley to John Bainon of Columbia.

A native of Independence, Kan., as is his wife, Bainon attended the University of Missouri School of Pharmacy, Kansas City, and was graduated in 1962. Coming to Sedalia from Columbia where he had been two years, he also had hospital training at the Ellis Fischel Hospital there. Prior to that he had been employed at Emporia, Kan.

Bainon is a member of the American Pharmaceutical Association, the Missouri Pharmaceutical Association, the Kansas Pharmaceutical Association, Phi Delta Chi Pharmaceutical Fraternity, the VFW and the American Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bainon have purchased a home at Southwood Acres where, with their two children, Elaine, seven years old and Jason, a year and a half, they plan to move next week.

WEEK.

Mrs. Bulkley, who has operated the store since the death of her husband almost three years ago, plans to stay on at the store for the time being. The company owned jointly by Howard Robinson and Garnett Bulkley for many years, was purchased five years before his death by Bulkley from Robinson.

Boy's Life Saved By a Cab Driver

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — A city cab driver has been credited by police with saving the life of a 2-year-old boy who was choking to death.

William T. Larkin was driving his cab along Fairfield Avenue when he saw a woman with a baby in her arms screaming that the child was choking. Larkin grabbed the baby and ran into the woman's house, where he gave the child mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Knob Noster's Drive Is Over

The Knob Noster-Washington Township United Fund Drive has been completed for 1967 with a total of $4,775.29 collected. Knob Noster schools, includint Whiteman School, contributed $1,009.50; the Boeing Company's Good Neighbor Fund, $1,500; Knob Noster businesses, $1,142.50; and individual contributions, $573.16.

Mrs. Donald Webster, Fund Drive Chairman, reported that only $1,348.95 was designated to certain organizations.

Solicitors were: Mrs. Russell Kendrick, Dale Wharton, Mrs. Thomas P. York, Jr., Mrs. Ronald Hall, Mrs. Ted Zink, Mrs. A. W. Lyle, Mrs. Robert Bawden, Mrs. James Jageman, Mrs. E. O. Price, Mrs. Don Chick, Mrs. Elmer Bailey, Mrs. Jack Turner, Mrs. Erma Beatty, Mrs. Morris Rigdon, Mrs. Gerald Bonar, Mrs. Cecil Long, Mrs. Charles Grace, Mrs. Dick Scharfen, Mrs. Franklin Powell, Mrs. Donald Webster, Mrs. Ben Callahan, and Larry Austin. Robert L. Maxwell, chairman of the school solicitors, was assisted by other teachers.

Tree Lighting Opens Season

The opening of the Christmas season in Knob Noster was marked by lighting of the city Christmas tree Nov. 24 at City Hall by Debbie Martin, Miss Knob Noster.

The Rev. Walter Long, pastor of the Baptist Church, opened the program with scripture reading and prayer.

The Minute Man Choir, Whiteman Air Force Base, directed by Major Roy Hendricks and Major Gerald Murphy, sang Christmas selections accompanied by Mrs. Warren Hickman, pianist. Velma Patterson and Jana Elliott also sang, accompanied by Miss Patterson on the guitar. Airman First Class Bob Rodgers led the group singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Hickman.

The Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the Christian Church, gave the benediction.

Pass-Fail Experiment At CMSC

Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg will begin using the pass-fail grading system on a limited experimental basis beginning with the summer term of 1968, according to President Warren C. Lovinger.

The program is similar to the pass-fail systems being used on other campuses, and attempts to encourage students to undertake courses in those areas that the student would normally avoid because of a lack of background.

Undergraduate students will be permitted to enroll for up to a total of 12 semester hours on a pass-fail basis. If the student passes the course, he receives credit without a grade. If he fails, he receives neither credit nor grade.

Addition At First State

Construction work to add 2,250 square feet to the First State Savings Association, Third and Osage, has begun, according to J. E. Mitchell, president of the board of directors.

The project consists of a one-story addition without a basement. The construction is of the same design as the existing facilities which is composed of brick masonry, stone lava rock, aluminum, glass, porcelain enamel, and concrete.

The new facility will provide additional offices, work space and one area for future growth. The existing half of the property will continue to be used for customer parking. The drive-up windows will remain the same with access from Third and exiting into the alley from the rear of the new building to Kentucky or Osage.

The Bank Building and Equipment Corporation of America are the architects and consultants with local labor and materials being used. The construction superintendent is Ivan Oserhout, who has been with the company for 10 years.

First State Savings Association has been in Sedalia since it was chartered in 1913. It was formerly called the Sedalia Savings and Loan Association. The association now has branch offices in Clinton, Marshall, Tipton and Warrensburg.

Barbara Nelson, Leland Finley Exchange Double Ring Vows

The Rev. Walter P. Arnold, 2104 South Harrison, and the Rev. Harold Smith, Syracuse, officiated at the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Barbara Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Nelson, Bunceton, and Mr. H. Leland Finely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Finley, Sedalia, at seven o'clock the evening of Saturday, Nov. 25, at the First Baptist Church, Syracuse.

Mrs. H. Leland Finley

Mrs. Hadley Stahl, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Len Schroeder as he sang, "I Love You Truly," "Always," and "More."

Altar decorations included two seven branch candelabra accented with huckleberry and white bows.

Mr. Ernest Nelson gave his daughter in marriage. She chose a gown of white brocade peau de soie with the fitted bodice highlighting a scooped neckline. Long traditional sleeves closed with tiny fabric buttons at the wrists. The pleated skirt, styled with a panel in front and pointed back waistline, flowed into a wide chapel train. A miniature, double crown of pearls and irridescent sequins secured her short bouffant veil of illusion. The all white bridal bouquet featured an orchid, surrounded by pompons, attached to a white Bible by wide white ribbon. Her jewelry, a princess-sweetheart ring, was a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Charles L. Stahl, matron of honor, wore a floor length dress of pale blue peau de soie, fashioned with a scooped neckline and a bell shaped skirt. Her headpiece was a crown of matching blue peau de soie and tulle. She carried an arm bouquet of white mums arranged on a jade leaf and tied by wide white ribbons. Miss Ruth Bishop, bridesmaid, cousin of the bride, wore an apricot floor length dress of peau de soie, and Miss Elizabeth Thomas, bridesmaid, wore a mint green floor length dress of peau de soie, matching the maid of honor's attire. Their headpieces were designed identical to the matron of honor and both carried arm bouquets of white mums on jade leaves.

The flower girl, Miss Vickie Bishop, cousin of the bride, wore a pale pink floor length dress of peau de soie with headpiece styled similar to the attendants. She carried a miniature bouquet of white mums on a jade leaf. Master James L. Stahl, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed in fragile lace and lilys of the valley.

Mrs. Charles L. Stahl, Syracuse, served as best man, with Mr. Jim Whitsitt, Lee's Summit, cousin of the groom, acting as groomsmen. Candlelighting duties were performed by Mr. Dale Smith and Mr. Mike Palmer, Syracuse, who also seated the guests, along with Mr. Steven Brauer and Mr. David Johansen, Syracuse.

The bride's mother chose a beige wool suit, off set with brown accessories and a white mum corsage. The mother of the groom selected a two piece blue ensemble with coordinating black accessories and a white mum corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Bishop, Bunceton, wore a blue dress with black accessories and also wore a white mum corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining room. The bride's table was covered with net over pink taffeta and centered a three tiered cake enhanced by miniature bride and bridegroom figures on the top tier.

Miss Sandra Gentry, Miss Lynn Bryan, and Miss Linda Fisher served at the bridal table, and Mrs. Robert Pritchard presided at the guestbook. Miss Marsha Klein, Miss Kathy Koenke, Miss Jane Schroeder, and Miss Billy Gene Carver received the gifts, assisted by Skip Langkop and John Lewis. Mrs. Norbert Langkop, Mrs. Ray Burns, Mrs. Lewis Smith, Mrs. Herbert Brauer, Mrs. Roy Johansen, Mrs. Paul E. Stahl, and Mrs. Warren Klein assisted with the reception and wore corsages of bronze mums, created by Mrs. Lewis Smith, Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley are graduates of Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and will reside in Bonner Springs, Kan., where they are employed by the Bonner Springs school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Finley were hosts to a rehearsal dinner Friday evening, Nov. 24, honoring the wedding party. The buffet dinner was served in the church dining room.

BETROTHED—Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey L. Moore, 408 South Engineer, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ruth Elaine, to Mr. Cleo Ray Casdorph, son of Mrs. Joe Furnell, Rt. 2, and Mr. Cleo R. Casdorph, LaMonte. Miss Moore is a 1967 graduate of Smith-Cotton High School and is presently employed at Tempo's. Mr. Casdorph is a 1965 graduate of Smith-Cotton and is employed at Joe Knight's Garage. A December wedding is planned at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Mrs. James G. Johnson

Miss Diana Lea Drenon Bride Of Mr. James Gordon Johnson

In a white and red ceremony officiated by the Rev. J. R. Wallace at half past seven o'clock the evening of Friday, November 24, at the First Baptist Church, Miss Diana Lea Drenon became the bride of Mr. James Gordon Johnson.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Russell K. Drenon, 1711 West 16th, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Johnson, 2407 Dennis Road.

The double ring ceremony was performed before a setting of red carnations, white mums, and a large, standing basket of white gladioli. Entwined with glacier ivy, the four, seven-branch candelabra, holding white tapers, graced the chancel.

Soloist Miss June DeWitt, 2501 South Grand, sang "Whiteher Thou Goest," "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Helen Williams, 644 East 10th, on the organ.

Candlelighters were David A. Drenon and John E. Drenon, brothers of the bride.

The bride, escorted down the aisle to the traditional wedding march, was given in marriage by her father. She wore an all white grown of bridal satin and Alencon lace. The lace empire bodice featured a jewel neckline with long, tapering sleeves which came to a point over the wrist. The A-line skirt of glossy white bridal satin featured a chapel length train flowing from the empire waist. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was secured to a solitary white satin rose. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid and stephanotis tied with snow white streamers on a white Bible.

Mrs. Barry Wallace, Boliver, matron of honor, wore a red velvet street length ensemble fashioned with empire waist, trimmed in red satin. She carried three long stemmed red and white variagated carnations tied with matching red velvet ribbon. Miss Gayleen Jaeger, 509 South Park, served as bridesmaid. Her costume was identical to the matron of honor's dress and she wore a red satin bow headpiece styled with red net.

Mr. John D. Johnson, 2407 Dennis Road, twin brother of the groom, acted as best man, with Mr. Barry Wallace, Bolivar, as groomsman. Ushering duties were performed by Ken Drenon, brother of the bride, Tom Hudson, 1821 South Prospect, Jeff Herter, Kansas City, and Tom Lundgren, Chicago, Ill.

The mother of the bride wore an aqua A-line dress with matching double breasted jacket and matching accessories. The mother of the groom chose an aqua jacket dress, framed in lace and closing with three tiny buttons, with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. Cora Cunningham, grandmother of the bride, wore a three piece red and gray ensemble with black accessories and a red and white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the church dining room with approximately 200 guests in attendance.

The bridal table was covered with white nylon lace over a white linen cloth and centered a three tiered cake featuring a tiny bride and groom framed with smilax and red and white carnations. Drinks were served from a crystal punch bowl and a five branch silver candelabrum with white tapers also adorned the table.

Serving were Miss Joy Ream, 1611 West Third, and Mrs. Jeffery Barbour, Bolivar, with Mrs. Shelby Pirtle, Belton, in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Pirtle, Belton; Mrs. Lea Long, Windsor; Neil Pittman, Kathy Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Ney Wingo, Mae Ann, Tom, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Johnson, Marysville, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Younger, Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Richardson, Sue Ann Richardson, Estes Park, Colo.; Miss Perry Mudd, Mr. and Mrs. Del Blunk, Gary Lear, Columbia; Mrs. Cora Cunningham, Mrs. Nellie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bristow, Charley Angela, Warsaw; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Huntress, Mrs. Lois Hughes, Bolivar; Mr. and Mrs. Miller Love, Raytown; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melson and Michelle, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. James Shannahan and Sheryl, Fayetteville, Ark.; Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Huntress, Jr., Leanne, Charles III, Greg, Monett; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hodges and Ed, Independence; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crain and Lynne, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Dorothy Sims and Patricia Diane, Kansas City; and Kelly Whitaker, Jefferson City.

The bride attended Missouri University, Columbia, as a home economics major, and the groom attended Missouri University, Columbia, as a physical education major.

The couple will reside in Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson gave a rehearsal dinner Thursday, Nov. 23.

Barbara Burford, James Crawley United In Candlelight Ceremony

(Lehmer Studio)

Mrs. James Lee Crawley

In a candlelight ceremony at the Wesley Methodist Church, Miss Barbara Ann Burford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Burford, 1514 South Missouri, became the bride of Mr. James Lee Crawley, Kansas City, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Crawley, Kansas City. The double ring ceremony took place at seven o'clock the evening of November 25.

The Dr. H. U. Campbell, Lexington, officiated before an altar arrangement of fresh white gladioli and chrysanthemums banked by two seven branch candelabra and emerald palms. The bridal aisle was lighted by hurricane lamp candelabra entwined with smilax blended with white satin bows and clusters of chrysanthemums. A white carpet covered the aisle.

Mrs. J. W. Watts, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied soloist Mr. Bill Long, Kansas City, who sang, "True Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Candles were lighted by Master Harry Benjamin Burford, brother of the bride.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory peau de soie. The empire bodice of peau d'ange lace, was styled with long tapering sleeves and a scalloped oval neckline. Motifs of matching lace were appliqued onto the A-line skirt. A wide lace edging framed the detachable peacock train which cascaded from a flat bow at the back of the empire line. Her ivory veil of illusion was held by a double lace crown, accented with tiny pearls and crystals. The bridal flowers were a formal cluster bouquet of pink Barbara Ann and sweetheart roses with pearlized ivy foliage; she also carried a handkerchief and wore a ring belonging to her grandmothers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Dennis Hotchkiss, the bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald Garst and Mrs. David Inlow, sister of the groom, Kansas City, wore floor length empire style dresses of cranberry red velvet accented by a square neck and large puffed sleeves. Tiny satin buttons and a bow adorned the back of their gowns. All attendants wore matching bow headpieces and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and garnett roses with pink velvet streamers.

Attending the groom as best man was Mr. Terry Antos, Grandview, with Mr. Mike Cox, Grandview, and Mr. Steve Nash, Kansas City, serving as groomsmen. The ushering duties were performed by Mr. Rick Huddleston, cousin of the bride and Mr. Davie Inlow, Kansas City, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Burford, mother of the bride, chose a pink texture silk costume with matching accessories. A corsage of garnett roses completed her attire. Mrs. Crawley, mother of the groom, wore a blue silk dress designed with a lace bodice and matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink flair roses.

Following the ceremony the couple received friends in the Fellowship Hall. The table was covered with a floor length lace cloth over pink taffeta, centering a tall silver candelabrum, intertwined with arrangements of pink roses, carnations, white gladioli, and fern. A three tiered wedding cake, in bridal colors, was decorated with pink roses and highlighted with a miniature bride and groom.

Serving cake was Mrs. A. F. Scott, aunt of the bride, and punch was served by Mrs. Robert Ferguson. Assisting were Mrs. Gary Hayden and Mrs. Robert Bohm. In charge of the guest book was Miss Janet Burford, Belton, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Charles Huddleston, aunt of the bride, attended the gift table; and Diana Huddleston and Kathy Burford, cousins of the bride, passed out rice bags to the guests.

Mrs. Crawley graduated from Smith-Cotton High School and attended the University of Missouri, Kansas City, and Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg. She was a member of Pi Omega Pi, Business Honorary, at CMSC, and is now employed with the Federal Aviation Administration, Kansas City. Mr. Crawley graduated from Ruskin High School, attended Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and is presently employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Kansas City.

Out of town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. H. U. Does His Share For His Town

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Charles F. Wilson, a lumber dealer, was concerned over reports that the city might face a $705,000 deficit by the end of the fiscal year next June 30, and he decided to do something about it.

He sent a check for $6.60 to city Comptroller Charles Crutchfield.

Wilson explained that the projected deficit would average out to less than $1.10 for each of the city's approximately 650,000 residents. His check was for this amount for each of the three members of his family and another family of three.

Burn Marijuana

CHICAGO (AP) — Clouds of marijuana smoke billowed toward the ceiling in the basement of the U.S. Customs Service Thursday, but the agents weren't having a pot party.

They were burning in an incinerator 425 pounds of the narcotic weed, worth $450,000 that was confiscated during the past three years.

Sex Education More Than Facts

By GARVEN HUDGINS
AP Education Writer .

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's the best way to condition Junior for sex education in grammar school? Give him love and warmth during his cradle days, say the experts. And be sure he gets the proper mother-father image.

It's all a matter of helping a child adjust intelligently to his sexuality, says one Washington psychologist who has actively promoted the drive to introduce formal sex education into the nation's classrooms.

Patricia Schiller, head of the newly formed American Sex Education Association and director of a government-supported program to train counsellors in sex education, says a child's sexual outlook can be determined from the time of birth.

"Parents need to help small children avoid confusion," she says. "A child needs warmth and love from both parents from the moment he is born. He should see, for example, that his mother takes pride in being a woman. And there has to be a good male image who will make a boy see for himself that he is somebody important. If the mother downgrades the father, or vice-versa, very young children can become unsure of their sexual identity."

This kind of psychological indoctrination is a major part of sex education now being taught in a growing number of U. S. schools.

The National Education Association, Parent-Teachers Association, American Medical Association and the U. S. government support the spreading campaign to teach sex in the classroom.

Privately sponsored agencies, such as the New York-based Sex Information and Education Council of the United States and the American Association of Sex Educators headquartered in Washington, have been set up to promote and support sex education in the schools.

Behind the drive is a national concern over soaring venereal disease rates and illegitimate births among teen-agers.

Sex education has been a standard part of the Washington, D.C., public school curriculum for almost five years. In nearby Montgomery County, Md., most junior and senior high schools now have sex education. The state of Illinois has donated funds for the training of sex education counsellors. Pennsylvania, New York and California have started similar projects.

The object is not merely to teach biological facts.

"It's really a matter of helping young people to develop personally and to understand their complete physical, social and psychological make-ups," Mrs. Schiller explains. "The aim is to produce a mature person capable of fulfilling his sexuality in the broadest sense and of meeting his sexual needs later in life with responsibility and intelligence."

To this end, first and second graders in more or less standard sex education programs across the country start out by learning how they grow.

Baby guppies, hamsters and guinea pigs are raised in the classroom. Hen's eggs are fertilized and candled to show the gradual growth of the embryo.

In the second and third grades, youngsters learn the correct nomenclature for sexual organs. Baby expressions—or worse—are discouraged.

Fifth and sixth graders learn about bodily changes. The function of menstruation and the transition from puberty to adulthood are explained.

In junior and senior high schools, family relationships are discussed and details of reproduction are taught with the aid of plastic models and films.

Accompanying the complete course is instruction designed to give youngsters an understanding of their emotional reactions and of acceptable ways to express them.

In schools which have sex education programs, instruction usually is handled by health education specialists or physical education teachers.

Counsellors concerned with sex education acknowledge that any sexual experience involves intense emotion and that the individual, in the final analysis, has to think any situation through for himself.

"In sex education," Mrs. Schiller explains, "we're trying to provide instruction which will enable the girl, under pressure from a boy to go all the way, for example, to determine why it may be more appropriate for her to say no from the standpoint of her relationship to the boy, to her schoolwork and to her family. The purpose is to equip the individual to think these things through on his own."

About Kites

Historians think the kite was invented between 400 and 300 B.C. by Archytas, a Greek, but the Chinese claim that one of their generals, Han Sin, invented it in 206 B.C. for use in war.

Mrs. Patrick Clark

Barbara Slott, Patrick Clark United In Afternoon Ceremony

At one o'clock the afternoon of November 18 Miss Barbara Jean Slott, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles Slott, Rock Hill, became the bride of Mr. Patrick Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Clark, Chesterfield. The Rev. Ron Beckman performed the double ring ceremony at the Christ Lutheran Church.

Traditional wedding selections were played on the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a pale pink suit with an embroidered flower design sprinkled on the matching jacket, and pink accessories. Her corsage was two large cymbidium orchids tied with glossy pink ribbon and her hat was a circlet of sheer pink net, held by pink ribbon.

Mary Ellen Slott, maid of honor, sister of the bride, wore a green suit highlighted by an accent of white in her gloves, and a corsage.

Mr. Paul G. Clark, father of the groom, served as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a gray suit and the mother of the groom wore a blue ensemble.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Holiday Inn with approximately 25 guests present. A three tiered cake topped the all white bridal table, featuring a miniature bride and groom on the highest tier. Champagne and finger sandwiches were also served.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Webster Groves High School, Webster Groves. The groom is a 1965 graduate of Parkway High School, Chesterfield, attended Florissant Valley Community College for two years, and is presently employed as a reporter for the Sedalia Democrat.

After a brief wedding trip to New Orleans the couple will reside at 1900 West Tenth.

S. Homans Celebrate Golden Year

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Homan, Otterville, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house Sunday afternoon, Nov. 26, at their home. The celebration was given by their children: Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Homan, Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Homan, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Homan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Meleta) Brodersen, Otterville, Mr. and Mrs. Allen (Mildred) Stahl, Syracuse; Mr. and Mrs. George (Eunice) Neitzert, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon (Irene) Wolf, 1208 South Murray.

Yellow and white floral arrangements decorated the rooms with approximately 100 friends and relatives present.

The serving table, covered with a lace cloth over gold, centered a four tiered cake adorned with yellow sugar roses and gold leaves, topped with the number 50.

Mrs. Homan chose a light blue dress and a corsage of yellow roses for the occasion and Mr. Homan wore a yellow rose boutonniere.

Cake, punch, and mints were served by Mrs. Neitzert, Mrs. Leroy Homan, Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. Earl Homan, and Mrs. Homer Homan.

Grandchildren present were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Homan, Versailles, Delores Homan, Florence; Judy, Charles, Wayne, and Glenn Homan, Donald Wray Homan, Otterville; Margaret and M. Neitzert, Columbia and Tommy and David Wolf, Sedalia. Great-grandchildren attended from Versailles and Florence.

Old Employee Given Praise

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — "I wish I had more people like him. He is one of the finest employes I have ever worked with."

It was E. Bland Cresap, head of a Colorado Springs credit service firm, talking.

He was speaking not about a young man getting started in the company but about his clerk-typist, Clancy Williams, who turned 87 last Monday.

Not only is Clancy—born Clarence in Cincinnati in 1880—planning on working a few more years yet, but he doesn't let the loss of both legs bother him.

He has been getting around on artificial limbs for 58 years ever since a railroad accident in 1909.

A match would not burn in a space ship traveling beyond the pull of earth's gravity, instead of rising, the hot gases would accumulate in a sphere that would put out the flame.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Petree, 1728 East Seventh, announce the engagement of their daughter, Annette, to Mr. Tom Fluty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fluty, Houstonia. Miss Petree is a senior at Smith-Cotton High School, and Mr. Fluty is employed at John's Shoe Store. A May wedding is planned.

E. F. Hughes Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Hughes, Knob Noster, were honored by their sons and families, Chester Hughes, Warrensburg, and L. H. Hughes, Knob Noster, with a reception Sunday afternoon, Nov. 18, at their home, to celebrate their 50th anniversary. More than 200 relatives and friends attended the reception.

Guests were greeted at the door by the sons and rooms were decorated with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. The serving table, covered with a white linen cloth, held an arrangement of yellow rosebuds, with a three branch crystal candelabrum holding yellow tapers and silver appointments, enriching the table. The three tiered cake had festoons of white sugar icing and was decorated with yellow sugar roses, nestled in beds of olive green leaves, and topped with an arrangement of roses and leaves. The cake was surrounded with pleated yellow and white net, with greenery encircling the punch bowl.

Yellow mints, nuts, punch, and coffee were served with the cake.

Serving were Mrs. Chester Hughes, Mrs. L. H. Hughes, Mrs. Tom Austin, Warrensburg, Mrs. Mike Hughes, Owensboro, Ky., Mrs. Phillip Hughes, Warrensburg, and Mrs. Robert Goucknour, a niece, Terre Haute, Ind. Susan Hughes, Knob Noster, and Kathy Hughes, Warrensburg, granddaughters, attended the guest book with Tom Austin and Mike and Phillip Hughes in charge of the gifts.

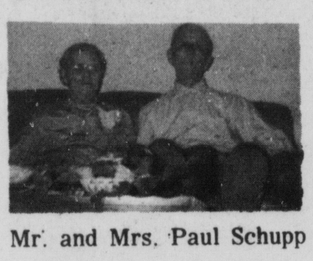

Mrs. Hughes is the former Jennie Lane, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Lane. Mr. Hughes is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were married Nov. 21, 1917, Warrensburg, at the Methodist Church parsonage, with the Rev. J. Charles Gilbreath, performing the ceremony. They have lived at their present home, nine miles northeast of Knob Noster, since their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hughes are the parents of two daughters, Kathy Hughes, and Mrs. Tom (Diane) Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hughes are the parents of two sons, Mike and Phillip, and one daughter, Susan. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hughes also are the grandparents of Leslie Carol Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are members of Blackwater Chapel Methodist Church.

Paul Schupps Observe 65th Anniversary

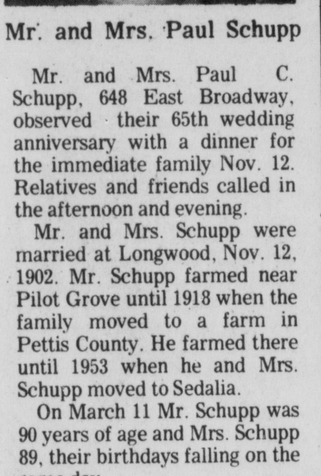

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schupp

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Schupp, 648 East Broadway, observed their 65th wedding anniversary with a dinner for the immediate family Nov. 12. Relatives and friends called in the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Schupp were married at Longwood, Nov. 12, 1902. Mr. Schupp farmed near Pilot Grove until 1918 when the family moved to a farm in Pettis County. He farmed there until 1953 when he and Mrs. Schupp moved to Sedalia.

On March 11 Mr. Schupp was 90 years of age and Mrs. Schupp 89, their birthdays falling on the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Schupp are the parents of three children, Mrs. J. E. (Marie) McNeal, of the home, Martin Schupp, Route 2, and Mrs. Leslie (Genevieve) McMullin, Route 2. They also have one grandson, Bonnard Schupp, Independence, and two great granddaughters, Tammy and Sherry Schupp.

TO MARRY—Miss Rosalie Owens, Vista, Calif., formerly of Zalma, and Cpl. Charles P. Hoffman, Camp Pendleton, Calif., plan a January wedding in the New Hope Church, Jennings. Miss Owens is receptionist for the Marine Corps Exchange, Camp Pendleton. Cpl. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hoffman, 825 West Sixth, will complete military duties in the Marine Corps and be discharged in January.

Concern Over Drug Use

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Writer

There is a widespread, growing national concern about the use of marijuana and LSD. It is a very real, deeply felt concern —except to those experiencing the fantasies of the mind-altering drugs themselves.

Scarcely any parent in the United States can avoid the thought that his teen-age child might toy with drugs that distort his mind. Nor is the teenager himself immune—he is not certain that what he took last week might not harm him years later.

The doctor is confronted with it in his clinic, the minister in his study, the judge in his courtroom—and not always professionally, not always with someone else's child.

This concern is rooted in a mountain of sometimes bewildering claims about dangers and benefits. Marijuana, it is said, is a stepping stone to stronger, addictive drugs such as heroin; causes damage to the body; twists the mind; leads to lust, violence and crime; produces moral decay. The far more potent LSD is indicted for: damage to chromosomes—the carriers of heredity—possible birth defects, homicide, suicide, insanity, and moral degeneration.

And yet the use of marijuana is more open than ever before, and society's prohibition against it is being challenged in the courts and opposed in pro-marijuana campaigns which claim Americans have been fed lies about the drug. Others are demanding the right to use LSD as a sacrament in their newly proclaimed churches, just as the Native American Indian Church legally uses mind-expanding peyote in its ritual.

LSD is one of the most powerful mind-altering drugs. Marijuana is far less potent and its effects of far shorter duration. There are no known toxic doses for humans for either drug.

But both have subjective effects that make it extremely dangerous to perform complex skilled acts, such as driving a car. Marijuana can produce a dream state—or an excessive feeling of well-being—in which the sense of time and space is distorted and in which the smoker might be confronted with real danger and not recognize it.

LSD radically opens up sensory awareness so that there is a rush of sensory information. A man driving a car while under the effect of LSD might know that he was in traffic, but at the same time might think he was in a canal and the buildings were huge ocean liners.

There are also other reported crossovers in which sound is seen and color heard. Panic states—the so-called LSD "bad trip"—have produced situations in which the user becomes paranoic. There is a contention that these extreme conditions can return unexpectedly weeks and months after using LSD.

There is no legal supply of natural marijuana or LSD for personal use. The government obtained the manufacturer's existing LSD stock—22 grams—in April, 1966, and has carefully disposed it to qualified researchers. All other LSD is illegally made or imported.

While all drugs can be misused, the problem of abuse centers on LSD and marijuana because they involve greater number of young Americans than heroin addiction, for instance, which has long been a severe drug problem. The Federal Bureau of Narcotics says there are 60,000 known addicts of opium-derived drugs. Others say there could be as many as 200,000.

Because its possession is illegal, there is no valid census as to marijuana users, just educated estimates.

"The National Students Association put the figure at 10 million," says John Finlator, director of the Federal Bureau of Drug Abuse Control, "but our view is that it may be between three and five million."

A recent Gallup Poll of colleges produced an estimate of 300,000 on the nation's campuses. Dr. James L. Goddard, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, estimates 20 million Americans have tried marijuana at least once.

There is no reliable figure on LSD users.

But there is certainly evidence that LSD has been used and is being used on a significant number of college campuses and can be readily found in urban centers.

Among the most revolutionary developments in drug abuse is the change in the kinds of people who are involved. Ten and 20 years ago, marijuana was considered mainly a vice of Negroes and others from poverty level or ghetto areas, as well as musicians, entertainers, and nonconformist writers and artists.

A California judge, Arthur L. Alarcon, describes what has become almost typical in courts: "Today, a judge sees an increasing number of marijuana users from good families, students with above average grades and without prior record of delinquency."

The LSD user has been described by Dr. Richard Blum, director of the Psychopharmacology Project at Stanford University in California and principal author of the President's Crime Commission Task Force on Narcotics and Drugs, in these terms:

"LSD is most common among the 20-30 age group in urban centers; well educated rather than poorly educated persons are using it; males more than females use it; and its users are often very competent students who are 'introverted,' interested in the humanities and art, somewhat more 'intellectual' than their peers, and less sensitive to convention."

How dangerous are marijuana and LSD? There are those who argue that marijuana is less dangerous than alcohol, which causes far greater known deaths—through traffic accidents and abuse—than marijuana, and is a direct factor in divorce, family desertion and job absenteeism.

But no definitive scientific answer has been possible for the most part about marijuana—a plant—because until recently there was no unequivocally known potency. One cigaret could be far different from another because of soil, weather and harvesting. This tended to make experts skeptical of claims that a single cigaret could produce any given effect. More so, very little scientific research was conducted because of a dominant law enforcement attitude, shared by portions of the medical profession, that there was no medical use for the drug. Now there is a synthetic, THC, which scientists feel will allow them to conduct valid research as to what it does and why it is used. This research is now going on in 19 projects. There also is prospect that the American Medical Association's council on drugs will conduct a scientific study.

Reports about chromosoma damage and birth defects from LSD emerged only this year. Dr. Maimon Cohen, a geneticist at State University of New York at Buffalo, subjected white cells to LSD and detected breakage. Subsequently, other investigators found broken chromosomes in the white cells of persons who used LSD.

The full import of what this means has not yet been determined. Other scientists argue that because there is chromosomal damage in white cells in test-tube studies, such as conducted by Dr. Cohen, this does not mean that such damage necessarily occurs in the body of an LSD user.

University of Wisconsin investigators were the first to report possible birth defects. This was based on tests which LSD was given to pregnant mice and it was found that when it was given on the seventh day of pregnancy, 91 of 158 embryo mice had malformations.

Although marijuana is under control of the Bureau of Narcotics, it is not a narcotic. The smoker does not build a tolerance to it, such as he would with heroin, and there is no need to increase the amount in order to get high. Also, he can stop use abruptly without suffering the withdrawal sickness that is part of narcotics addiction.

The Bureau of Narcotics claims that one of the grave dangers of marijuana use is that it is a stepping stone to heroin and similar opiates.

The Medical Letter, a nonprofit drugs and therapeutics survey service for the medical profession, reports: "There is no evidence that it (marijuana) has any physiological or emotional effects which directly lead to more serious drug abuse, but its use may facilitate contact with persons or groups using more dangerous drugs."

No similar theory has been proposed about LSD. In fact, in the psychedelic scene, drugs such as heroin, morphine, cocaine, barbiturates and amphetamines—anything that anyone would inject with a needle—are frowned upon. One of the amphetamines which has turned up in significant quantities is methedrine, which is called Meth or Speed. Its dangers were quickly recognized and the underground press raised warning flags. Buttons appeared carrying the message: "Speed Kills."

Does chronic use produce any long-range personality change?

Dr. Joel Fort, former director of San Francisco's Center for Special Problems and drugs consultant to the World Health Organization, claims "such harmful effects are not inherent qualities of marijuana. Drugs do not make the personality. That is already there."

The adverse effects of LSD go far beyond personality change. Psychotic episodes—what the LSD cult calls "bad trips"—have been reported with mounting frequency.

Dr. Donald B. Louria, a microbiologist who is chairman of the New York State Council on Drug Addiction, says that during a 10-month period in 1965, "65 persons were admitted to the psychiatric division of Bellevue Hospital with some acute psychoses resulting from self-administration of LSD. We were able to carefully examine 52 of the cases. The predominant manifestations were overwhelming fear, uncontrolled violent urges and strong auditory hallucinations. Two had attempted homicide. Twelve appeared to have underlying psychosis or schizoid personalities."

Dr. Sidney Cohen, chief of psychiatry service at Wedsworth Hospital in Los Angeles and one of the early investigators of LSD, says the danger of suicide and of psychotic reactions have been under-reported.

"Deaths stemming from the illusion of being able to fly are getting so common that they're not even making the papers any more," he says.

Dr. Louria, incidentally, extends the danger of psychotic episode to marijuana use. He says "a study of the literature makes it clear that even one cigaret can produce a panic reaction and even a psychotic reaction, although this may be short-lived."

Dr. Bruce Jackson, a sociologist at the State University of New York, reports that his three-year study of middle case, adult marijuana users in New York City, Boston and Austin, Tex., shows no evidence that marijuana led to sexual promiscuity, violent behavior or criminal activity.

Marijuana users, on the other hand, are inclined to say that marijuana stimulates them sexually. But Dr. Constandinos J. Miras of the University of Athens, who sees many dangers in marijuana, says this is not one of them. He cites his studies with rats, saying such tests showed there was a 90 per cent drop in reproduction activity.

"The premise behind this is that marijuana lowers inhibition," says Dr. Paul Gebhard of the Institute for Sex Research at Bloomington, Ind., "but if that is so, it might be the same as drinking a martini. We have seen no evidence that marijuana or alcohol can accomplish this. If someone thinks it can, then it may occur because of his expectations."

Says Reds May Beat US to Moon

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said today he will not be surprised if the Soviet Union lands a man on the moon before the United States.

"The U.S.S.R. is developing a lot of options that will give them a position out in front. The large booster system they are developing will work," Webb told a news conference.

"The question with us is whether Saturn-Apollo system will work perfectly in all its flights. If there is trouble it will take time and effort to clear up."

Peace Continues Elusive

Silent night . . . . sleep in heavenly peace!

How poignant will be the vocal melody of teenage youngsters singing in schools and churches this Christmas season.

Listening, adult minds will project thoughts into the future, lulled for a moment by such music into the peace of mind millions of innocent people so ardently hope for.

Guileless youth; singing soulfully, oblivious to older selfish and greedy generations that have thrown their brothers into the maws of war.

Twenty years from now will these teenage youngsters, grown to manhood and womanhood, fearfully pray for silent nights and peaceful slumber for themselves and their little children? Will another older generation fail soon to evolve a workable peace; fail to mold pliable minds to understand spiritual and moral ethics; fail by their own scheming and questionable conduct to set examples of high purpose for those who follow them?

Also the New Year approaches, when parents can resolve to renew their efforts to direct the trend of thought of oncoming generations away from selfishness, greed, hatred—and war.

Animal Fakers Exposed

Now we know. When an opossum "plays 'possum," it really is playing 'possum—that is, just pretending it's completely unplugged from this world.

How do we know? Because five biologists in California took the trouble to go out and catch opossums and bring them back to the laboratory. Their finds are reported in "Nature and Science," published by the American Museum of Natural History.

Wires from an electroencephalograph machine (EEG) were attached to the animals' heads and tracings of brain activity were made while the animals were awake and asleep.

Then the opossums were suddenly attacked. A loudspeaker played a recording of a dog barking and "dog jaws" in the form of a big pair of pliers grabbed them by the necks and shook them. After an initial attempt to fight, the animals played 'possum.

But aha! They couldn't fool the EEG, which revealed that their brain activity was that of normal, awake, alert animals.

The same result was found when another group of opossums was molested by specially trained dogs, who pawed them, chased them into corners and shook them by the neck.

Now we know everything about opossums. Except how they cuss in opossum language.

MONEY CLIPS

by Mort Reed

The Naked Truth-

The Standing Liberty quarter of 1916 is considered one of our more attractive pieces of money. Like the 1916 Liberty-head dime and the Walking Liberty half-dollar, the Hermon MacNeil quarter carried the liberty theme as a motivation towards peace in our struggle to stay clear of the European conflict.

On the whole, the design of this quarter-dollar was well-accepted but, because a few dissenters looked down their noses at the nudeness of Miss Liberty, the Treasury Department halted production on the pretext of upgrading the artistic merits of the eagle on the reverse.

Actually, the eagle was never touched except to move him up a little to allow redistribution of the stars.

Miss Liberty emerged from the Treasury clinic wearing a coat of chain-mail and a new hairdo.

This stop-and-go action by the Treasury is nothing new, it has happened many times and, when it does, the numismatist has something to stimulate his curiosity. In this case it was unnecessary but two distinct variations were created — the 1916 and 1917 Type 1 illustrated and the 1917 to 1930 Type 2 with the chain-mail coat.

All three mints struck this coin, and mint marks for Denver and San Francisco may be found to the reader's right of the bottom star to the right of Liberty. MacNeil's initial M is located to the right and slightly above the last digit in the date.

Although this issue has been discontinued for 37 years, it has not yet reached its real potential. There are many reasons why this particular coin should command higher prices and today's upward trend in coin values indicates this will prove to be true. Using good as the lowest condition and uncirculated as the highest, exclusive of proof, the following prices or values are approximate. Type 1 ranges from $200 to $1,000 for the 1916 and $2.75 to $60 for the 1917, depending on the mint mark .

The blue chip dates are: 1918 over 1917 with a San Francisco mint mark, $140 to $2,800; the 1917-S from $4.50 to $680; the 1919-S from $25 to $300; the 1919-D from $20 to $250 and the 1921 from $15 to $200. A genuine 1923-S is valued at $35 to $210 but a specimen of this date should be examined closely for an altered date.

Miss MNM, Schertz, Texas (San Antonio Express-News): Your 1921 Indian-head or Buffalo nickel is worth anywhere from 85 cents to $30, depending on its condition. If there is a mint letter S under the words FIVE CENTS on the reverse, its value will increase to approximately $9 in good condition to $275 if it is uncirculated.

* * *

Mrs. MWH, Laramie, Wyo. (Denver Rocky Mountain News): Your nickel is an Indian-head or Buffalo and apparently it is worn beyond numismatic value. However, the motto reads "E Pluribus Unum" and is required on all U.S. coinage.

Mrs. EDF, Denver, Colo. (Rocky Mountain News): If by chance your 1853 half-dime has an arrowhead on each side of the date it is worth from $2.50 to $20. If there are no arrowheads it lists at $5 to $65. Now, if there are no arrowheads and the mint letter O appears on the reverse, it can bring up to $300 in an uncirculated condition.

One of the nicest things to know about an ace is that you don't have to play it at the first opportunity. Banks may lend money on aces, but they pay no interest on tricks that are taken earlier than necessary.

South wasted no time taking the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts. Then he led a diamond to his queen. East played the seven and West allowed the queen to hold but was careful to grab the second diamond lead.

West played the jack of hearts. East overtook with his king and led a trump. South went up with his ace, entered dummy with the ace of clubs and led a third diamond. East was mean enough to ruff, and the best South could do was to overruff and run out all his trumps slowly and carefully, but to no avail. There was nothing he could do about his last heart.

Had South bothered to think a little at trick one (which is the best time to think), he would have let the defense win the first heart trick. If hearts were continued, South would have time to ruff his third heart. If East overtook and led a trump, South would be in almost the same situation as if he had won that first trick. The difference would be that dummy's ace of hearts would be an extra entry.

The play would proceed with East leading a trump at trick two. South could win and lead a diamond. Assuming that West were smart enough to duck the first diamond and win the second, his best play would be to knock out dummy's ace of hearts.

A third diamond would be played. East would ruff and South would overruff. Then South would cross to dummy with the ace of clubs and lead the last diamond.

Poor East would want to ruff, but you can't ruff when you are out of trumps. South would get to discard his losing heart.

The Teddy Bear

Old Santa's sleigh was very full,
The reindeer found it hard to pull,
And as across the sky it sped
He almost lost a bright red sled,
He grabbed it just in time, but he
The teddy bear just didn't see
As it went downward through the air,
That poor, scared, little teddy bear,
Finally to land on a drift of snow,
Just where it was it didn't know,
Its beady eyes looked all around,
It saw no one and heard no sound,
The night was long and dark and cold
But morning at last around rolled
And from the brush a rabbit hopped,
Glanced at the teddy bear and stopped,
He wondered, in that morning glow,
What that was sitting in the snow,
He went up closer now to see
Just what that funny thing could be,
He didn't recognize a feature
Of any other woodland creature;
A squirrel came darting down a tree
This funny animal to see,
A cardinal, perched upon a branch,
Chirped: "Is it alive, by any chance?"
The soulful eyes of a little fawn
From behind an evergreen looked on,
And all the animals about
Watched the teddy bear with doubt,
The fawn, the rabbit and the squirrel—
Then suddenly a little girl
Came trudging through the snowdrifts deep
As if she still was half asleep,
She came to life with: "Looky there,
"Santa did leave me a teddy bear,
"That's what I wanted so," she said,
"But daddy only shook his head,
"Santa has many gifts to give
"He probably don't know where you live,
"You see, I'm sorry, but I failed
"To get your letter too him mailed."
The mother had smiled and wiped a tear
As she said: "We've not much for Christmas this year."
There were nuts from the woods, an apple or two,
That was about the best they could do,
And a little horse whittled out of wood,
Beneath the Christmas tree had stood,
But the little girl wanted a teddy bear
And now she found her Christmas wish there
Near her house on a snowdrift white,
She picked it up and squealed with delight,
She rushed on home to show mother and dad
And they both said they were very glad,
"I guess," said her dad, "It dropped from the sky
"Last night as Santa was riding by,
"With so many trees and then the snow
"Just where you lived he didn't know,
"He didn't have time to really stop,
"So he let the little teddy bear drop
"Because he knew you had been good
"He dropped it down as close as he could,"
But wondering about that little girl
And the teddy bear, were the rabbit and squirrel,
What kind of an animal was it she found
That never before had been around,
That fuzzy thing with the beady stare,
For they'd never seen a teddy bear.

Religious Books

By Cyrene Dear

WASHINGTON, D.C. — As Christmas approaches there is the usual flood of religious books. Charles Scribners' Sons, a reliable book publishing firm in New York, is offering some serious new books on theology. Dr. Carl Michalson, a professor of systematic theology at Drew University, was a jet traveling evangelist who greatly aided college students, as well as the masses, in expressing his faith in God's redemption of the world in and through Jesus Christ. Killed in an airplane accident, he was about to give a speech which is now lost forever, but his lectures have been preserved in "Worldly Theology" priced at $5.95 and published by Scribners'.

In the book Dr. Michalson discusses the teachings of Ernest Troeltsch, Karl Barth, Karl Heim, Rudolf Butlman, Danish Theologian Soren Kirkegaard and other religious philosophers. Most of these philosophers were German Protestants. Carl Michalson's teachings emphasize the necessity of making religion a force in a modern society. He admits that God is hard to define but writes that "The work of the Father which Jesus finished was to make men sons of God, no longer slaves or even children, but sons, and if sons, then heirs. Unlike a slave or a child, a son is an heir to whom the Father turns over responsibility for what is his. In the world of Jesus of Nazareth men are brought to maturity in the world by receiving the world as an inheritance from God which henceforth remains their responsibility."

A sentence in the forward of "Worldly Theology" ends with these words, "Gone with the wind? No. Michalson's thought is blowing in the wind!"

Another Scribner book, a small one priced at $3.50, is "Conversion to the World," by Hans Jurgen Schultz, translated by Paul Oestreicher. Hans Schultz is not a theologian but a journalist in Germany who is concerned about communicating the Christian faith to ordinary people. He seeks to bring to the world a faith that will help people in a technological, materialistic and godless society — a faith that will convert a man twice — once to God and then back to the world. This journalist writes "Conversion to the world means that the people of God (all people, potentially) should be equipped to change society, instead of standing on the sidelines to criticize. It means a church, politically committed, economically vulnerable, humanly efficient and at the same time open to attack by the world. It means a return to the Hebrew and Christian tradition which allows no distinction between the sacred and the secular."

This little book is ideal for preachers and laymen. As a Christmas gift it would bring new meaning at this sacred time and a reminder that it was because "God so loved the World that he gave His son."

Truman Doctrine Benefits Vanish

EDITOR'S NOTE—Drew Pearson has visited Greece and Turkey more times than he can remember, dating back to 1919, and is one of the leading American journalistic authorities on the two countries. He is one of the few Americans given the unique honor of being made an "Honorary Citizen of Athens," an honor given to the late Premier Clemenceau of France and Prime Minister Lloyd George of England.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — No matter what happens in the current crisis between Greece and Turkey, you can write off the Truman Doctrine as dead. This is the most important conclusion to be drawn from the precarious position between the two beneficiaries of the Truman Doctrine—a position which will continue even if war over Cyprus is averted.

The Truman Doctrine was decreed by Harry S. Truman in 1947 in order to prevent the two countries guarding the gateway between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea from falling under the influence of Russia. Ever since the days of the Czars, Russia had coveted control of this gateway, and Greece, then torn by Communist guerrillas, and Turkey, prostrate after the war, were ready to line up with any nation tending succor.

President Truman's bold stroke in decreeing massive economic and military aid to these two nations was considered an American milestone. No other American president in peacetime had so decisively departed from the American isolationist tradition.

Today, however, the two recipients of Truman's aid have been threatening a war which could conceivably precipitate World War III. Meanwhile Turkish mobs, protesting over our peacekeeping efforts, have stoned the U.S. Information Office in Ankara, Turkish students were so hostile that Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus Vance had to land at a military air field; while in Greece, the democarcy we sought to protect from communism, has given way to a fascist dictatorship.

—Why Doctrine Dies—

We are still spending huge amounts for military aid in Turkey, with approximately 10,000 U.S. Air Force personnel stationed there. And we are giving lesser military aid to Greece. But the Truman Doctrine, as far as it benefits world peace or cooperation with the United States, is dead.

Reasons for its death are threefold:

1. We placed our reliance on tanks when what this part of the world needed most was tractors. It was much easier, of course, to get arms OK'd by Congress than tractors.

2. We made little attempt to alleviate the ancient suspicion between the Christian Greeks and the Moslem Turks.

3. We based the need for aid on the far of Russia and necessity to fight the cold war. The Russians cut the ground out from under this by ending the cold war.

Visiting the Near East in January 1951 I drove along the border between Turkey and its nearest communist neighbor, Bulgaria. The cold war was at its height. Between the two countries ran a long barrier of rusty barbed wire. Near the unused highway were mud-brick-block houses with little knots of Turkish and Bulgarian troops drinking coffee in the sun. A John Deere tractor droned in a field on the Turkish side of the line. Otherwise there was no activity, no communications, only an armed truce between the communist and capitalist world.

Eight years later I returned to Greece and Turkey. It was the fall of 1959, two months after President Eisenhower had met with Nikita Khrushchev at Camp David, starting a new era of better understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

I found that the leaders of Greece and Turkey, who had built their military might on the basis of Moscow's menace, were dismayed.

"How am I going to maintain the thirty divisions you want?" Premier Constantine Karamanlis asked me. "First, you say Russia is our enemy. Now you say Russia is our friend. I cannot sell that new policy to my people that fast."

President Celal of Turkey was equally concerned.

—A New War Goal—

Yet the United States continued to pour arms into Turkey, to a lesser extent into Greece, to protect them against an enemy of which we ourselves no longer feared. The U.S. Congress, however, was still willing to vote tanks but not tractors. Since the arms were not to be used against Russia, and since military men don't like to feel unused and unwanted, the generals began to maneuver against themselves. They began to fan the 600-year-old grudge between Greece and Turkey.

It all began slowly. Turks rioted against Greek merchants in Istanbul. Greeks in Cyprus began pressuring for independence from the British. The British used the Turkish minority as an excuse not to grant independence.

By 1964 the fanning of old hatreds reached near war. President Johnson invited both President Inonu of Turkey and Premier Papandreou of Greece to Washington, found Papandreou to be one of the few who flatly refused to succumb to Johnson's persuasive charm. The negotiation deadlocked. The United States had to use the blunt threat of no aid to get the two countries to relax.

At that time the Greek President of Cyprus, the shrewd and wily Archbishop Makarios, was very cozy with Moscow. He had imported Russian arms and acted as if he had a commitment from Russia to intervene in case of war.

Today, the situation is reversed. The Turks have made their peace with their old traditional enemy, the Russian bear. There have been missions back and forth between Ankara and Moscow. The Kremlin is keeping hands off the Cyprus crisis.

—Bubbles vs. Monument—

In the summer of 1963 I cruised around the Black Sea. Communist Bulgaria and Rumania had made great progress. Economically they were thriving. Tourists were welcome. Their bathing beaches were beautiful. They had spent their money not on arms but on education, housing, new roads, economic and cultural improvement.

Capitalist Turkey, in contrast, was backward. Almost no one used its beaches. Its schools, universities, housing, highways, parks and industry were far behind those of the neighboring Communist world. Turkey had put the billions of American aid into its military. Its army was the biggest per capita in the world.

Thus operated the Truman Doctrine, a doctrine built on the threat of force which did not shift gears with the changing times.

Along the south shores of the Black Sea today is a line of American bubbles. They are built up on the hills, round-roofed radar listening-posts, listening, looking at Soviet Russia. These American listening posts long have been the chief value of Turkey to the United States.

Today, they are partially made obsolete by the development of "Spy" satellites which can photograph everything in Russia as they orbit around the earth.

For some years we balanced the importance of these bubbles on the Turkish hills against the importance of a democratic monument on a hill overlooking Athens—The Acropolis. Today democracy is dead in Athens, taken over by a Greek military junta. So with democracy dead, the Truman Doctrine dead, and the American bubbles out-dated, there isn't much choice between Turkey and Greece as far as the USA is concerned. They are both recalcitrant jingoist nations, capable of pulling their NATO allies into war.

REASON FOR ITS DAMS

The beaver is by its body and habits meant for a life in and near the water. If the water in which it chooses to build its home is naturally shallow, the beaver constructs a dam to insure himself of a sufficient depth of water in all weather and in all seasons.

Britain's Jolly George Does Everything Up Brown

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent

LONDON — (NEA) — The trouble with George Brown, foreign secretary in Britain's Labor government, is that there are two of him.

There is Mr. Brown, the statesman, who represents Britain abroad, hobnobbing with such men as President Johnson and Gen. De Gaulle.

But there is also a fun-loving George, who likes his alcohol, but who is apt to turn nasty as soon as he gets a couple of drinks under his belt. American business caught a glimpse of this latter George Brown at a banquet here recently when he turned on Lord Thomson, the publisher, and accused him of "degrading" the British press.

The Americans had been brought to London by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Corp. for five days of panel discussions on political, social and economic trends in Europe. To their surprise they found themselves observing a bit of history in the making as the No. 2 Labor party politician threw his tantrum. As the Daily Mirror commented: "It is not that George Brown drinks too much but that he shouldn't drink at all."

Exuberant or sober, it is not a question of reforming the owlish-looking Brown. As he himself has said: "The country has to make up their mind whether they will accept me as I am, because there's not the slightest chance of me changing."

Many here feel that the thin-skinned Brown is a luxury that Britain cannot afford. The London Daily Mail made this point in a recent editorial:

"If you want yourself a Foreign Secretary who doesn't do anything that's wrong, I'm not the guy."

"The irrepressible Mr. Brown may be an engaging court jester . . . but this country now lacks credibility in world affairs."

Paradoxically, Brown's recent booboos do not appear to have hurt his standing with the British public. The average Briton looks upon Brown as a sort of mirror image of his own weaknesses and foibles and consequently has a sneaking affection for him.

Brown admits that he likes alcohol. "Everyone of us has to drink something," he said in a recent television interview. "If you did not drink at all, you would die."

He also admits that he makes occasional mistakes. "If you want yourself a foreign secretary who doesn't do anything that's wrong, I'm not the guy." Such engaging candor has made him many friends.

Brown's background as a union organizer is an unusual one for a foreign secretary, most of his predecessors having come from posh families and posh schools. In contrast, Brown's father was a truck driver, and he grew up in a two-room tenement.

Brown worked as a fur salesman until the management discovered his Socialist leanings and fired him. Thereafter he went to work for the British equivalent of the Teamsters' union, using this as a stepping-stone to a political career.

In recent years Brown has hit the headlines repeatedly by his tactless blunders.

There was the time he told off Khrushchev and Bulganin, when the two Russian leaders were guests of the British Labor party at a luncheon at Claridge's. After lunch Brown produced a list of political prisoners being held by the Russians and flourished it under Khrushchev's nose. Khrushchev was so enraged that he said he would vote Tory if he lived in Britain.

There was the night of President Kennedy's assassination when Brown, who had had too many drinks, appeared on television and shocked viewers by telling a few tasteless anecdotes about the late president.

More recently, newsmen were treated to another of Brown's famous harangues, this time in a Scarborough hotel lobby after press photographers had tried to take pictures of him dancing with his wife.

In fairness to the foreign secretary, he has been under a strain recently, because the negotiations for Britain's entry into the European Common Market have not been going smoothly. The consensus here, however, is that Brown's days are numbered, as the government can no longer risk his outbursts of temper.

One reason why Prime Minister Harold Wilson has been slow to fire Brown is that Wilson acts as his own foreign secretary to a large extent, reserving major policy decisions for himself.

Meanwhile, Brown can take comfort in the fact that he has a fan in President Lyndon B. Johnson, who told an American columnist recently: "Brown is a man you can trust, the sort of fella who would go to the wall with you."

Johnson also feels that the British press has been treating Brown unfairly. "I ought to know," says LBJ, "for I've had to put up with the same thing myself."

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY GEORGE BROWN, shown here leaving 10 Downing Street with a police escort, is very much his own man. LBJ is one of his boosters, but he has plenty of critics too.

News Briefs

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia's week-long wave of fighting between Chinese and Malays appeared over today as police foiled a leftist attempt to stage a general strike in Kuala Lumpur.

From the most turbulent areas in the northwestern part of the peninsula to the southern tip just across from Singapore, police reported life returning to normal and no serious incidents in the past 36 hours.

TOKYO (AP) — A wrecking crew started tearing down the Old Imperial Hotel today, and scores of onlookers clicked their cameras steadily.

There were no demonstrations of protest from the groups that had tried to save the 44-year-old structure designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. The owners say the three-story building is uneconomical to run on its expensive downtown property and they plan to build a modern 17-story building.

BANGKOK (AP) — The Thai government imposed martial law today on five Communist-infiltrated provinces in central and southern Thiland.

The decree gives the government sweeping powers to relocate village populations and arrest and hold Communist suspects.

OTTAWA (AP) — The bill limiting the death penalty in Canada to murders of policemen and prison guards cleared the House of Commons Thursday night and went to the Senate.

The upper house resumes its fall session Tuesday, and final approval of the bill there is expected. The new regulation is to be given a five-year trial.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan warned Thursday night that most Arab countries within the next six months will restore their military machines to their level before the Arab-Israeli war in June.

"This will lead them to try to push Israel back by force," he told a Tel Aviv audience.

Connally Denies He Is the Man

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. John Connally of Texas said today he discussed the secretary of defense job with President Johnson in Washington but "I am not a candidate for the job."

The Democratic governor has been mentioned as one of those being considered for the position to succeed Robert McNamara.

Connally was interviewed as he stopped for breakfast at Friendship International Airport on his way to Paris from Washington.

He said the discussion with the President about the Defense Department position "was purely coincidental," and not the purpose of his 24-hour visit to Washington.

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

Sacred Heart's Gremlins and Smith-Cotton High School Tigers played their first game of athletics, an exciting one, but no fatalities occurred. It was a game on the basketball court and the fears of retaliation from one team or the other off the basketball court failed to materialize, for which we are most grateful.

For years there has always been talk of not letting the teams play each other for fear of retaliation from the loser. That has been the reason the Jefferson City Public High School and the Helias High School have never played against each other because of fear of trouble.

What difference does it make. These kids are in it for the sport. Of course, they may "needle" the loser a little, but I do not believe anything drastic would occur like some people think. Sedalia has a great bunch of kids and the ones who might stir up the little difficulties are less than two-percent, and if they did I am fairly sure their efforts would not be too rewarding.

The game at Tipton last Monday night between these two Sedalia schools was terrific. Both teams fought all the way for the win and both put up great defense against the other.

Smith-Cotton in their first game of the season surprised the Sacred Heart fans in the first half of the game as the Tigers rallied to score 10 and 12 for 22 points while the Gremlins had but 5 and 8 for 13 points. But then the Gremlins,some who said were the "fighting Irish", displayed their conditioning by holding the Smith-Cotton boys to 4 and 6 for only ten points in the final half and came through to score 9 and 11 for 20 points and the necessary edge to win by a one-point margin ot 33-32, surprising the Smith-Cotton fans.

Actually the two schools have fine coaches in Jim Gladback for the Gremlins and Paul Schwartz for the Tigers, and Sedalia is again fortunate in having two men like these handling their boys in these two schools.

It appeared as both teams went into this game over anxious to win, that neither team was scared, only cautious. They fought hard with their defense, and the face of the low scoring was an indication of a desire to not take any chance, but to be sure.

Certainly the last half was one of pressure for the Tigers against a team already having 5-1 record for the season and in better condition, although I doubt if the Tigers would admit they weren't in the tip of condition for this first game, and had a little "stage fright" mixed in.

Scared Heart in their win over the Tigers gained a 6-1 record, and Friday night's loss made it a 6-2 for the season, the losses being to Warsaw in the PBCAA Conference and to Tipton in the tournament at Tipton. Saturday night's results will change their season record — but at this writing it is too early to say which way.

The tournament game between these two schools certainly had the Sedalia Booster Club "on the fence," some members rooting for Sacred Heart and others for Smith-Cotton. The club is for both teams as a whole and their division comes only when members of the two teams' fathers who belong to the club have to divide their support.

We predict both will have good 1967-68 seasons before the basketball playing comes to an end.

We who represented this area at the District football meeting in Columbia recently for the South-Central District were more than pleased with the results and the recognition given the Smith-Cotton football team. The names of the local players were placed before the meeting by Ernie De Camp, of KDRO, and William "Bill" Brown, also of that station, along with myself.

If one does not think the Sportswriters and Sportscasters don't have the "dope" to present to the meeting for comparison, he is badly mistaken. Most of those present have seen practically all of the players in action and can easily distinguish the bad from the good as well as support the good against the bad.

Lee Deal, Tiger guard, was highly priased by those others who saw him play. His record spoke for itself in this competition for the All-District honors.

Archie Bennett, Tiger tackle, missed the first pick by being a Junior as one represented remarked. His competition for one of the two spots, Scott Snyder of the Jeff City Jays and Dennis Markway, of Helias of Jefferson City, was strong and drew the attention of those present.

It was really pleasing to the local representatives when the group selected Jerry Morris, at end; Bennett at tackle; Russell "Rusty" Johnson, center; and Mike Robertson, as one of the backs on the second team.

Picking an All-District team was hard enough but the selection of the All-State teams at the meeting held in Jefferson City a week ago was anything but easy. More than 30 representatives of the sports media were present and each had boys who they thought were good enough for the team. The First and Second team selections were finally completed after four and a half hours of work.

As usual the members wasted no time in their election of officers and Jim Vieth of the Jefferson News-Tribune was re-elected as the Secretary-Treasurer, while I was again named President of the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association.

Late Comeback Is Stopped By Fumble

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John Cartwright, a ball-faking Houdini, and Geri Balsly, running like a berserk ghost, made a shambles of Army's vaunted defense for three periods, but it took a guard to save a 19-14 victory for Navy Saturday in the 68th inter-service football rivalry.

Behind 19-0 and frustrated at every turn by the fired-up underdog Middies, Army's Cadets came to life under sub quarterback Jim O'Toole for two dramatic touchdowns in the final nine minutes of the game.

Army was driving for another score — a possible winning one — with less than four minutes to go after a short Navy kick gave the Cadets the ball on the Middies' 27.

They moved to the Navy 23 from which fullback Charley Jarvis, a hero in Army's 20-7 triumph a year ago, fumbled the ball. It was recovered by Ray DeCario, Navy's middle guard, on the 20.

Cartwright, giving a spectacular performance of passing, ball-handling and play-calling, took over from there and marched the team 59 yards to the Army 20 before the final gun sounded.

Navy took command from the moment John Church kicked a 29-yard field goal at 6:29 of the first period after a 36-yard pass from Cartwright to his favorite receiver, Rob Taylor.

Later in the opening quarter, Dan Pike plunged over from the one after a 45-yard march, and early in the second period Navy smashed 82 yards for another touchdown. Balsly plunging through the middle for the final 13 yards.

The Midshipmen made it 19-0 in the early minutes of the fourth period when Nick Kurilko, Army's punter, fumbled a low pass from center in his own end zone and was smeared by Navy captain, Bill Dow, for a safety.

It was at this point that Army Coach Tom Cahill threw O'Toole in to the quarterback slot for his ace, Steve Lindell, credited with leading the Cadets to a fabulous 8-1 record this year before the Middies clash.

Young O'Toole, pinpointing his passes and mixing his plays well to upset the Navy defense, took Army 52 yards for a touchdown, but failed on an attempt for a two-point conversion.

Moments later, Army had the ball again at its own 48 and on second down O'Toole, well protected, rifled a long spiraling pass to end Gary Steele, who had outdistanced the Middie defenders to catch it over his shoulder and race for the second Cadet touchdown.

This time the two-point try was good when O'Toole hit Hank Andrzejczak in the end zone with a pass.

Then came Navy's short kick, an 11-yarder, which gave Army its last gasp before the big save by DeCario.

Geigel To Defend His Crown

Diamond Lil

Little Darling Dagmar

Earl Maynard, Mr. Muscles of wrestling, will make his bid for the Central States crown here Tuesday night when he goes opposite Bob Geigel.

The action will highlight a five-event ring program at Convention Hall.

Maynard's strong showing against the powerful Hangman prompted the Barbados, West Indies, heavyweight to issue a challenge to Geigel for the C.S. belt.

They'll battle over the best of three-falls distance. It stacks up as a test of Maynard's speed and versatility against the roughing power of his veteran opponent. Geigel has held forth as one of the leading heavyweights on the Midlands scene the last five seasons and now, as champion, is riding the crest of his success.

For the first time at Convention Hall, a mixed midget wrestling event will be presented. Colorful Lord Littlebrook will team with Darling Dagmar to oppose Mighty Atom and Diamond Lil in that unique pairing. Victory will be on a team basis.

Burly Bob Brown, Geigel's usual team partner, will have a solo assignment against Ronnie Etchison, a rugged St. Joseph battler who fast is beoming proficient with the sleeper hold.

Lord Littlebrook is pitted against Mighty Atom in another clash, while Darling Dagmar will pit her 88 pounds against Diamond Lil.

Defeat TCU

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mike Livingston passed for three touchdowns, set up another and bombed Texas Christian for 323 yards Saturday as he closed his college football career by carrying Southern Methodist to an upset 28-14 victory.

The defeat denied TCU its fifth consecutive victory and also knocked it out of a chance to tie for second place in the Southwest Conference.

A sparse crowd of 17,000 watched Southern Methodist jump to three touchdowns in the first uarter. Texas Christian roar back for two in the second period and then saw the Mustangs dominate the play the remainder of the game.

SMU, the 1966 conference champions, wound up in sixth place with a 3-7 season record.

Playing With USC

Ward Kniest, former Sacred Heart Gremlin basketball star and son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kniest of 706 West Fifth, was selected as a member of the freshman basketball team at the University of Southern California. A week ago he participated in the first game of the season in which the Southern "Cal" varsity team played the freshmen. Kniest, who is 5' 11" and weighs 150 pounds, is one of three freshmen who were selected for the team and who are attending the University not on a sports scholarship. His determination to make the freshman squad was such that it could not go unnoticeable. He was captain of the Gremlins cagers last season and was selected for the Athlete of the Year award for the Sacred Heart school year 1966—67. He is enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences at USC.

Green Ridge Falls To Northwest

The Northwest Mustangs triumphed over the Green Ridge Tigers Friday night by a score of 75 to 67. The Mustangs took the early lead in the conference match, with a first quarter score of 26-5. In the quarters to come Green Ridge pushed to fill the gap but were unable to catch the early lead made by the Mustangs.

High scoring cagers for Green Ridge were Greg Richardson with 16 points and David Dove with 15 points. High scorers for the Mustangs were Larry Brownfield, tallying 28 points, and Kraft who had 19.

Score by quarters:

Northwest:	26	16	14	19	—75
Green Ridge:	5	22	18	22	—76

Individual scoring: Northwest—Schuber, 4; Kraft, 19; Bratton, 6; Brownfield, 28; Thomas, 16; Richardson, 2; Green Ridge—Ream, 7; Ray, 2; Richardson, 16; Hancock, 12; Dove, 15; Knoernschild, 5; Crawford, 3.

In the "B" team and girls volleyball games the table was turned with the Tigers winning in both competitions, 49-38 in the first match and 31-16 in the second. Making the high scores in the "B" team game was Jackie Smith making 12 points for the Mustangs and Rudy Brown with 14 points for the Tigers.

Salvage Operations Underway

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Salvage operations began Saturday on the River Queen soon after the 44-year-old packet settled to the bottom of the Mississippi River at its mooring near Veterans Bridge.

The owners claimed the boat, converted into a floating restaurant several years ago, was the last of its kind on the river.

It began leaking about 3 a.m. Saturday.

Three hours later the stern was submerged and the craft was listing about 30 degrees, submerging the starboard side to the second deck.

The manager, Ron Shroder, two employes and a work crew repairing flooring were aboard but they got off the craft in time.

Owners John C. Groffel of St. Louis and Arthur Krato of Hannibal, Mo., engaged the National Marine Co. of Hartford, Ill., to raise the River Queen.

Workmen attached additional cables to the craft to prevent further listing and were bringing in barges to support the River Queen until actual raising operations can start Tuesday.

Krato said he and Groffel "want to save the boat. We've got to save it. It is the last one in the world. It is the last of the American heritage on the river."

The owners said there was nothing to indicate that another vessel or driftwood collided with the Queen. They said something in the hull structure apparently gave way.

The old stern wheeler was built in 1923.

It plied the Mississippi River for years between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau, under the name Cape Girardeau.

Dallas Will Meet Baltimore

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Dallas Cowboys, coming off one of their best offensive showings of the season, take on the unbeaten Baltimore Colts and the improving New York Giants meet the Cleveland Browns in games that highlight the National Football League program Sunday.

The Cowboys can clinch the Capitol Division title of the circuit's Eastern Conference by defeating the Colts. A victory for the Giants would enable them to tie the Browns for first place in the Eastern Conference's Century Division.

The Colts, 9-0-2, are host to the Cowboys, 8-3, while the Giants, 6-5, are at Cleveland, 7-4.

In other games on a full slate, Atlanta, 1-9-1, is at Los Angeles, 8-1-2; Philadelphia, 5-6, is at Washington, 4-5-2; Green Bay, 8-2-1, is at Minnesota, 3-6-2; New Orleans, 2-9-0, is at St. Louis, 5-5-1; Chicago, 5-6, is at San Francisco, 5-6; and Pittsburgh, 2-8-1, is at Detroit, 3-6-2.

Green Bay already clinched the title in the Western Conference's Central Division while Baltimore holds a one-game lead over Los Angeles in the same conference's Coastal Division.

Dallas overpowered St. Louis 46-21 on Thanksgiving Day as Don Meredith threw three touchdown passes. The Colts' stout defense limited San Francisco to 165 yards while beating the 49ers 26-9 last Sunday. The Colts have beaten the Cowboys the only two times they met, once in regular season and the other time in the 1966 Playoff Bowl.

Both the Cowboys and Colts are expected to be at full strength. Defensive back Bobby Boyd of Baltimore has recovered from a shoulder injury.

The Giants are dated to be at full strength for the Browns, except for back Tucker Frederickson, out for the season with a knee injury. Running backs Ernie Koy and Bill Triplett, out with ankle and shoulder injuries, respectively, are healthy again. So is Spider Lockhart, a defensive back, who's been bothered by a bad knee.

New York beat Cleveland 38-34 on the Giants' field last month as Fran Tarkenton fired three touchdown passes and ran for another score. Tarkenton threw three more TD aerials against Philadelphia last week. Leroy Kelly, the Browns' star running back, went over the 1,000-yards rushing mark in the 42-37 triumph over Washington last Sunday.

Los Angeles drubbed Atlanta 31-3 in their previous meeting this season two weeks ago. The Falcons expect to have middle linebacker Tommy Nobis available for full-time duty. Running backs Tommy Mason and Dick Bass of the Rams have recovered from injuries.

The Philadelphia-Washington game is an important one, too. The Eagles can stay in the Capitol Division race by beating the Redskins if the first-place Cowboys lose to Baltimore.

Rain Postpones Davis Cup Play

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Heavy rain Saturday forced postponement until Monday of the deciding tennis match of the interzone Davis Cup final with Manuel Santana of Spain leading Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-3, 6-3, 3-6.

South Africa tied the match at 2-2 Saturday when Ray Moore beat Manuel Orantes in a tense, two-hour struggle, 6-4, 0-6, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Santana seemed well on his way to victory in the first two sets of the postponed match, mixing flashing drives with sharply angled volleys and clever drop shots that kept Drysdale rushing all over the court and without a service break.

But in the third set, the South African made a remarkable recovery, reeling off six games in a row after Santana had taken a 3-0 lead. Then the rains came, quickly flooding the concrete court. The rain was a break for Santana, who was tiring rapidly.

Want Damages

RENNES, France (AP) — A French court has ordered the Paris government to pay $11,500 for sonic boom damage to the Chateau de Landal at Broualan village. The owners contended successfully at the trial and against a subsequent government appeal that a group of French planes crossing the sound barrier collapsed a tower that had been repaired in 1953 and 1965, knocked out windows of another tower and damaged a door and ceilings.

Speed Kills

BONN, Germany (AP) — Transport Minister Georg Leber told Parliament speeding is the big killer in West German traffic deaths. He said 42 per cent were due mostly to speed, 30 per cent to pedestrian carelessness and 25 per cent to alcohol.

Knockdowns Give Ellis A Victory

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jimmy Ellis knocked Oscar "Ringo" Bonavena down twice Saturday and went on to a tight but unanimous decision over the pride of the Argentine in their 12-round semifinal bout in the World Boxing Association championship elimination tournament.

Ellis, a one-time sparring partner for deposed champion Cassius Clay, floored Bonavena in the third and 10th rounds in the gruelling fight.

Ellis' only mark was a cut over his left eye, suffered early in the eighth round.

His next bout will be against the winner of the Jerry Quarry-Thad Spencer bout on Feb. 3 at Oakland, Calif.

Ellis, fighting before a hometown crowd, came in at 194¾ pounds while the bull-strong, awkward Bonavena weighed 206½.

Bonavena, 25, almost overpowered the Louisville boy with his strength and had Ellis in trouble later in the fight, which was telecast nationally by the American Broadcasting Company.

A classic boxer, Ellis started strong but seemed to slow down near the end. He was clinching and hanging on but Bonavena was unable to capitalize on the advantage.

Bonavena, who started his professional career in this country, took the decision with little emotion and was embraced by his handlers.

It was a combination of rights and lefts to the head, thrown by the champion of Argentina, that opened the cut over Ellis' eye in the eighth round.

But by the time the ninth had opened, the cut had stopped bleeding and Ellis, the son of a Baptist minister, seemed to have shaken off its effects.

Bonavena was unmarked around the face, but his body was a rosy red from Ellis' punches.

Each fighter earned $75,000 for their afternoon's work and Ellis now stands to pick up $125,000 when he goes into the title fight.

It was set up by the WBA after it stripped Clay of his title for refusing to accept military service.

Sooners Finish With Win

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Orange Bowlbound Oklahoma used the power running of tailbacks Steve Owens and Ron Shotts and two touchdown passes by quarterback Bob Warmack to swamp rival Oklahoma State, 38-14, Saturday.

Owens and Shotts gained over 100 yards rushing as the No. 3 ranked Sooners beat the Cowboys for the first time in three years.

Oklahoma, which finished with a 9-1 season, had sewed up the Big Eight Conference crown last week.

Warmack, who broke Oklahoma's season records for passing, and total offense, hurled bombs of 41 and 37 yards to wingback Eddie Hinton and split end Joe Killingsworth.

Owens scored twice on short plunges, fullback Mike Harper added another from 12 yards out and a Gary Harper-to-Bob Stephenson lateral after a pass interception carried 41 yards for the final Sooner score.

Oklahoma State's first touchdown came on a six-yard run by quarterback Ronnie Johnson just a minute before halftime, and the last Cowboy tally came on a seven-yard pass from reserve quarterback Robert Cutburth to Terry Brown with a little over a minute remaining in the game.

Warmack broke the total yardage season mark with a six-yard pass with less than a minute to play.

Oklahoma had led 20-0, in the second quarter, but the Cowboy touchdown just before halftime brought apprehension to Sooner fans.

But Owens and Shotts carried 16 times on a 17-play drive that took the Sooners 72 yards for the fourth touchdown in the third period. The long drive on the ground ate a huge hole in the clock, wiping out a Cowboy third-quarter advantage of a stiff north wind.

Owens got the touchdown from a yard away. On its next possession, Oklahoma ran Shotts three times and then Warmack hit Killingsworth with the scoring strike to put the game out of sight.

Owens gained 136 yards on 27 carries, Shotts 108 on 26. The two finished 1-2 in Big Eight rushing.

Besides his 22 starters, Fairbanks used only 13 players.

Oklahoma State finished 4-5-1 for the year, their eighth straight losing season and the fifth for Coach Phil Cutchin. The Cowboys wound up tied for fifth in the Big Eight.

The game had one ironic twist, when Fairbanks decided to give up 3 points which were already on the scoreboard. The play came in the first quarter, after Mike Vachon had kicked a 47-yard field goal with the aid of the strong wind.

It would have been a school record and would have put the Sooners in front 10-0 at the time. But Oklahoma State was charged with a holding violation and Fairbanks elected to take the 15-yard penalty, giving up the field goal and Vachon's record.

Three plays later the Cowboys held and Vachon missed a 38-yard try.

Stabler Leads Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Quarterback Kenny Stabler, unable to pass because of wind and rain, darted 47 yards through the mud Saturday for a fourth-quarter touchdown that gave Alabama a 7-3 football victory over arch-rival Auburn.

The eighth - ranked Crimson Tide, headed for the Cotton Bowl clinched second place in the Southeastern Conference standings with the victory, although Auburn dominated play and allowed Alabama only two first downs before Stabler's run.

Stabler completed only three passes for 12 yards and had one throw intercepted, but he swept the Tide to its eighth victory against a loss and a tie with his run, when he faked a pitchout and then outlegged Auburn defenders with 11 minutes left in the game.

Auburn, bowing for the fourth straight year to Alabama and held without a touchdown the last three meetings, ended the season with a 6-4 record and a 3-3 SEC record. Alabama finished with a 5-1 league mark.

A Decision Is Made

It was during a recent visit to the State Capitol and the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame by Frank Ervin, (third from left) Sedalian and 1967 Honoree to the Hall, with Representative Joe F. Rains, Governor Warren E. Hearnes and Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick that a decision was made. The large bronze "Great Seal of Missouri" in the center of the Capitol building on the first floor was inspected by the four. They had just walked out from the "Hall of Fame" in the background when someone walked across the seal. The Governor was quick to notice it, and a discussion between the Governor and Secretary Kirkpatrick began as to what could be done to protect the seal. Both agreed standards with ropes covered with plush should circle the seal to protect it from further "footsteps". The huge seal, historic as it is, there since the new Capitol was ready for occupancy on Oct. 5, 1918, and probably for several months prior, has been walked upon by millions, and the wear is beginning to show. Governor Hearnes and Secretary Kirkpatrick had accompanied Ervin and Rains to the Hall for pictures and had strolled out to where the seal is embedded in the marble floor. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Sacred Heart Gremlins lost in the semi-finals of the Tipton High school Invitational tournament to the host team 61-57, Friday night. The Gremlins failed to make a second half comeback as they did against the Smith-Cotton Tigers last Monday night when they edged out the Tigers 33-32.

The Gremlins were off to a fast start against Tipton scoring four quick points in the first minute of play and at the end of the stanza led the Cardinals 15-12. In the second period Tipton fought aside the Gremlin defense to score 19 to 10 points for a halftime lead of 31-26.

It was a nip-and-tuck third quarter when at one point of the quarter tied up the score with Tipton but were unable to move ahead and the stanza score was 19-17 giving Tipton an eight-point spread going into the final quarter. The Gremlins put on the pressure in this quarter and outscored Tipton but fell short of winning points the period ending 15-11 for a final score of Tipton 61 and Sacred Heart 57.

Tipton relied heavily on the 15 and 20 foot jump shots and were successful in them. In the first half Sacred Heart outrebounded Tipton 18-15.

Starting the second half the Cardinals applied a tight man to man full press, but the Gremlins were successful in breaking. Sacred Heart succeeded in breaking the deficit and the teams scored alternately until midway of the quarter when Tipton took advantage if every break to gain made a lead.

With one minute to go the Gremlins moved to within one point of the Cardinals, but they lost their gain through a fast break scoring spree of the Tipton aggregation. A technical foul called on the Tipton cheerleaders brought the Sedalians within two points, but they were unable to cash in on their possession after the shot.

It was noticeable also the Gremlins took 15 to Tipton's six rebounds in the second half. Sacred Heart at a 38 per cent from the field and 53 from the line while Tipton hit 42 per cent from the field and only 25 per cent from the line.

Earl Gerke was high pointer for Sacred Heart with 24 while Dave Bitler for the Cardinals collected 30 points to be high pointer for his team.

The scoring: Sacred Heart — E. Gerke 10-4-24; Bob Emo 6-2-14; Tom Tray 2-1-5; John Fischer 5-0-10; Tim Hogan 1-2-4; Total 57. For Tipton — J. Bret 5-0-10; B. Fulks 6-1-13; D. Bitler 13-4-30; R. Battles 1-0-2; and F. Knipp 3-0-6; total 61.

Stover's Bulldogs used a strong third-quarter scoring burst to gallop past the Smithton Tigers Friday night in a PBCAA game played at Stover, 53-46.

The tight first half's action saw the Bulldogs emerge with a thin one-point lead, 18-17. They then came back after the halftime pause to break open the game, outscoring the Tigers 23-12 in the third quarter and holding on to most of their lead through the final stanza.

Stover employed balanced scoring again for the victory. Wilson and Kroeschen had 18 and 16 points, respectively for the winners, while Hampy took game scoring honors for Smithton with 23 big markers.

Making it a successful night all around, the Bulldogs also captured the 'B' team basketball contest and the volleyball game. Stevens, with 14 points, led Stover to a 41-27 victory in the 'B' game. McCuthen had 11 for Smithton. Simon and Barbour, with eight points each, led the girls' volleyball team to a 37-16 win. For Smithton, George scored four points.

The varsity victory brought Stover's overall record to 4-3, while the girls' team continued undefeated, racking up their sixth straight victory.

Score by quarters:

Stover	10	8	23	12	—53

Individual scoring: Stover—Wilson, 18; Kroeschen, 16; Taylor, 9; Rowland, 4; Lucas, 6; Smithton—Goodnight, 9; Thomas, 7; Hampy, 23; Page, 2; Embree, 5.

Warsaw's Wildcats outclassed the Cole Camp Bluebirds Friday night, 111-47.

Nine players tallied for Warsaw, led by Lutman, who had 26 points and game scoring honors. Toboben was high point man for Cole Camp with 13.

The Wildcats were also victorious the "B" game, outscoring the Bluebirds 53-37. Dodd led the winners with 11 points, as Goosen had 12 and scoring honors for the game for Cole Camp.

In volleyball action, Cole Camp got some revenge, winning 30-13.

Warsaw's next outing will be in the Warsaw tournament Tuesday night against Climax Springs. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Score by quarters:

Warsaw	25	28	36	22	—111
Cole Camp	12	9	16	10	—47

Individual scoring: Warsaw—Terry, 13; Lutman, 26; Kellner, 21; Martin, 7; Cobb, 16; Henderson, 11; Forth, 6; Barb, 1; Dodd, 10; Cole Camp—Brandt, 7; Vogler, 6; Buford, 2; Toboben, 13; Bush, 7; Stelling, 10; Heistenburg, 2.

Lincoln won both the A and B basketball games against LaMonte at Lincoln Friday night.

In the A game, Lincoln defeated LaMonte 68 to 57. High point men for Lincoln were Brandsgaard with 23 and McCain with 17. Wheeler scored 21 and Tegethoff and Seviers each scored 11 points for LaMonte.

Score by Quarters: 1 2 3 4—T

LaMonte 13 16 11 17—57

Lincoln scored 39 to LaMonte's 31 in the B game. High point men for Lincoln were Gunn with 8 and Stevens and Rigby with seven points each. Dillon scored 16 points and Jones scored 11 for LaMonte.

Tennessee Overcomes Vanderbilt

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee overpowered Vanderbilt 41-14 on the passing of Dewey Warren and the running of Walter Chadwick and Richard Pickens Saturday and won its first Southeastern Conference football title since 1956.

The Volunteers finished the regular season with a 6-0 conference record, 9-1 over-all and ranked No. 2 in the nation. They meet third-ranked Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl at Miami New Year's night.

Tennessee scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and added one each in the second, third and fourth. Soccer-style kicker Karl Kremser booted field goals of 38 and 31 yards and added four extra points.

Vanderbilt tried an onside kick at the start of the second half, got the ball on Tennessee's 47 and drove over in 10 plays for its first touchdown.

The Commodores scored their second TD early in the fourth quarter on a 10-yard pass from quarterback Roger May to Lee Noel after recovering a fumble on the Tennessee eight.

Warren touched off Tennessee's touchdown parade midway in the first period when he hit flanker Richmond Flowers with a pass that covered 64 yards to the Vandy three. Chadwick plunged three yards for the TD.

The drive covered 88 yards, and the Vols subsequently marched 55, 70, 49 and 53 yards for their remaining touchdowns.

I am not sure what he wants of me. If it is a pie-baking wife, I have no lists and can only suggest he keep looking or check with an agency offering dates by computer.

If he wants me to agree that all women have lost their identities, I cannot because I think most of us have a good idea on that score. I am not going to suggest all women quit their outside jobs. I believe if a woman wants to stay home, she should stay home. If she chooses to work, that is something she decides for herself. Also, I know if all mothers quit work this morning, there would be a lot of hungry children tonight.

Actually, I think the boy should stop worrying about women and be glad he got to go to school. I hope he will learn one doesn't attain manhood by blaming mom.

I thought both the problem of the working woman and the plight of the housewife's lost identity were dead issues and have viewed those who still blame mother for everything, including tooth decay and the war in Vietnam, as sort of professional mourners.

Then I got a 17-page letter from a young man. His main complaint is that his mother worked in order to send him to college for four years instead of seeing that he had freshly baked cookies waiting for him every day. Also, he is looking for a wife to bake a perfect lemon meringue pie for him, which, I am assuming, he plans to eat after he has unhitched the horses, chopped a pile of wood and carried in the water.

He says, without giving names, that "some of the best minds in the country agree that women should stop wondering who they are and go back to their God-given role of wife, mother and housekeeper."

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Which palm is used by churches on Palm Sunday?

A—This is usually from the cabbage palm, also called palmetto, and from low shrubby palmettos in Florida. Ashes from the burned palms of the previous year's Palm Sunday are used in Ash Wednesday ceremonies.

Q—What is the height of Mt. Everest?

A—Its height is now generally accepted to be 29,028 feet.

Q—What is the wingspan of the California condor?

A—At maturity, it has a wingspan nearly 10 feet across and weighs up to 20 pounds. The condor is often termed the largest North American land bird.

I ANNOUNCEMENTS

2—Cards of Thanks

DR. & MRS. A. R. MADDOX wish to express their heartfelt thanks to all their many friends for their prayers, flowers, cards, gifts, telegrams, and their sincere hopes for a speedy recovery for Mrs. Maddox from her recent accident. Since it would be impossible to acknowledge each expression individually we take this method to express our deep and sincere gratitude. We especially wish to thank Drs. Braverman, Edwards, Stewart, and Daum. Also the nurses at Bothwell Hospital and our pastor, Rev. Frank.

BUCKNER: ANTHONY - OUR HEARTFELT THANKS to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings, and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

THE BUCKNER FAMILY
MR. AND MRS. EVERETT BUCKNER

MAHNKEN: WILLIAM H. - OUR SINCERE THANKS to all who expressed their sympathy and kindness in any way in our recent bereavement.

Ask Them Yourself

FOR REP. L. MENDEL RIVERS,

chairman, House Armed Services Committee

If a family has only one son to carry on the name and he is drafted, would he be sent into a combat zone?—Mrs. M. Williams, Ralford, N. C.

● Possibly. Status as an only son does not qualify an individual for hardship discharge or special assignment unless he meets the definition of "sole surviving" son—that is, a person whose brother or brothers have died in service, leaving him as the only remaining son. An only son is expected to fulfill all military obligations, including assignment to a combat zone.

FOR GOV. LURLEEN WALLACE,

Alabama

In news reports about your recent operation, you seemed very brave —but weren't you truly afraid of the outcome?—Mrs. Paul Redeker, Springfield, Ill.

● Yes, I did have moments of anxiety about my condition and about the possible outcome. Primarily, my concern was for my family, which I am sure would be the reaction of any mother finding herself in a similar situation. However, the tremendous outpouring of good wishes from people throughout the United States was a great source of comfort to me, especially those from former patients of the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston, Texas, where I was treated.

FOR JUNE LOCKHART

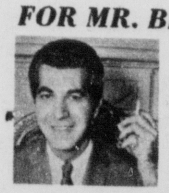

of "Lost in Space"

How did you learn self-hypnosis? Did you have a teacher or a do-it-yourself book?—Mrs. J. T. Kee, Austin, Texas

● Heavens, how did you find out about that? I once read a book on the subject and practiced it, but I'm not sure I ever was successful. I did find that the practice was relaxing.

FOR MR. BLACKWELL,

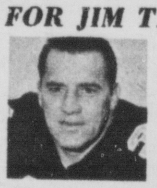

fashion designer

What is your opinion of the way Twiggy dresses? —D. D. North, Las Vegas, Nev.

● For a teen-ager, Twiggy is an attractive boy. In real life I can't believe she wears all the clothes she's paid to model. Some day she may gain a little weight (or add a little bark, so to speak), then she may change her name to "large branch."

FOR JIM TAYLOR,

New Orleans Saints

What are the real reasons for your decision to leave the Green Bay Packers?—Dennis Engelbracht, Manitowoc, Wis.

● I left Green Bay simply because I wanted to play out my career in my home state of Louisiana, near my home in Baton Rouge. I also am very satisfied with my contract with the Saints, and I look forward to playing for them for the next few seasons.

FOR BILLY GRAHAM

Is it true that during your teens, you were considered to be a bit on the "wild" side?—Stanley Shelor, Jr., Los Angeles, Calif.

● That's a matter of opinion. During my teens I was full of rebellion against my religious upbringing, but I may not have been "wild" by today's standards. My friends and I liked to run taxi drivers into a ditch with our jalopies or race through the middle of town, shouting, singing, and even driving on the sidewalk. My life had little purpose, but I remember making myself one promise: I would never become an undertaker or a preacher.

FOR BARBARA EDEN

I have heard that you spend an extraordinary amount of time filming "I Dream of Jeannie." What is your tv schedule?—D. S., Lansing, Mich.

● In actual filming, we try to keep a nine-to-six schedule, but if you want to include the time I spend in make-up in the morning and having my hair done, I'd say my work period would be closer to a 13-hour day.

FOR HANK KETCHAM,

creator of "Dennis the Menace"

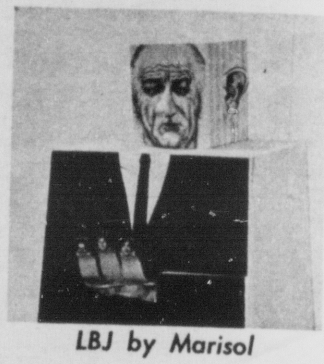

Are you married? If so, do you have a family? —J. Robert Lilley, Bristol, Tenn.

● Yes, I'm married and have one son, Dennis, who originally inspired the cartoon 16 years ago. Dennis is now a U.S. Marine lance corporal in Vietnam.

Want to ask a famous person a question? You can through this column, and we'll get the answer from the prominent person you designate. WHAT IN THE WORLD!

A New LBJ The burning question in the art world is—will critic Lyndon Johnson now change his mind about his official portrait, the one he called "the ugliest thing I ever saw"? A recent exhibition by sculptress Marisol at the Sidney Janis Gallery in New York had as its theme, "Heads and Chiefs of State." The particular "chief" everyone came to see was titled "LBJ, 1967" and showed the President holding three doves, namely Lady Bird, Lynda Bird, and Luci B. No art reviews as yet from the White House authority.

LBJ by Marisol

Mystery Song The record hit, "Ode to Billie Jo," has started a national guessing game: What was thrown off the Tallahatchie bridge? Says Bobbie Gentry, who wrote and recorded the ballad, "It's nothing definite, like a baby, as some people think. I meant it as a kind of symbolism."

Bobbie Gentry

Double Trouble U.S. Olympic officials are worried that the altitude may hinder our athletes at next year's games in Mexico City. But Dr. Daniel J. Hanley, chief physician for the U.S. team, now advises that Mexican food and water may have a more cramping effect. One solution: bring our own vittles along to the land of Montezuma. That maneuver, though, might give our diplomats indigestion.

Smokers Anonymous In an experiment at Dartmouth College in New Hampshire, student smokers were asked to put $50 into a pool. They could get back their share of the pool only by quitting the habit. During the four months of the experiment, 84 percent stopped smoking and 37 percent did not take it up again later. The percentages are better than any other anti-cigarette campaign we know of, which goes to prove that you have better luck when you appeal to people's wealth rather than their health.

Psyche-Delights Once you've colored most coloring books, that's it. Not so with "Designs to Color," a collection of abstract psychedelics by a Houston, Texas, housewife named Betty Schaffner. Betty's fans cut out the designs and shellack them on lamps or walls for decoration. They also can be used to decorate cars, doors, or garbage cans. To transform a refrigerator, for instance, you choose a design, have it blown up to the right size by a local blueprint company, then transfer the outline to the refrigerator with carbon paper or by blackening the back with a soft lead pencil. Then color away with textile or lacquer paints. "The designs are so abstract," says Betty, "that no matter how you color them, they can't turn out wrong."

45 YEARS OF MEDICAL PRACTICE...AND 10,000 OVERWEIGHT PATIENTS PROVE YOU CAN Get That Weight Off Quickly!

You can lose 5, 10, 15 or more pounds the first week! Dr. Irwin Stillman's Quick Weight Loss Diet debunks the myth that the only way to lose weight is to lose it gradually. He proves with facts not theory that rapid weight loss is the most effective reducing method.

IN JUST ONE WEEK you can see the weight on the scale drop rapidly, and the fat melt away. Dr. Stillman's records show that...patients averaged a loss of 6 to 7 pounds in the first 3 days on the Quick Weight Loss Diet.

IN JUST ONE WEEK you can get rid of the pounds suddenly gained from too much "good living." Sudden slimming is yours with the Quick Weight Loss Diet.

IN JUST ONE WEEK you will be delighted and impressed by your decided drop in weight. If you have failed with other diets, the big loss of weight the first week from the Quick Weight Loss Diet will give you the confidence you need to continue.

DR. IRWIN MAXWELL developed the QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET in the course of his 45 years of medical practice. The diet has been tested and proved by over 10,000 patients. It works!

His first rule is: GET THAT WEIGHT OFF QUICKLY!

The diet helps you do that by burning up 275 extra calories of body fat a day! And that is a secret of its success. This diet requires no will power after the first week. As soon as you see that you've lost 5, 10, or even 15 pounds in just your first week, you'll have all the encouragement you need right from your scale.

EAT AS MUCH AS YOU WANT

The amazing thing about the Quick Weight Loss Diet is that you get all the nutrition you need...you do not count calories...and you eat as much as you want! Actually, by sticking to permitted foods, you put a "brake" on your appetite so that—without bothering to count calories—you eat far less than usual.

But should you suddenly feel the urge for a midnight snack, go ahead. You don't have to put up with hunger pangs. Nor do you have to feel guilty if you eat "a little bit extra." As long as you eat permitted foods only, you may eat as much as you want!

NOT JUST ONE DIET...BUT 60!

In addition to the basic QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET, there are 60 different quick-reducing diets that cover an array of emotional and medical needs. For example, there's an Anti-Acne Diet, Anti-Allergy Diet, 6-Meal-a-Day Nibbler Diet, Bread-Cheese-Wine Diet, High Fat/High Protein Diet, etc. And every one is a quick-reducing diet that slims you down in a hurry.

If you're the type who must have variety, you can switch from one Diversion Diet to another...lose weight...and never eat a boring meal!

HELPS PEOPLE WHO COULDN'T REDUCE BEFORE

Hundreds of Dr. Stillman's patients were "veteran dieters"—people who have tried to lose many times before, and failed. Here are a few case histories:

MRS. F. G.– Five years ago she weighed 194 and was only 5'1". She had tried to reduce 14 times before without success, losing a few pounds at first, then gaining them back. With the QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET, she lost over 10 pounds the first week, was so encouraged she continued eagerly. In a year she got to her desired weight of 105 and has maintained it ever since.

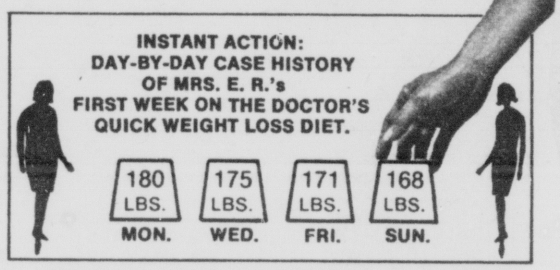

MRS. E. F.– At 5'2" she weighed 155 instead of her ideal of under 110. She vowed to reduce after overhearing people call her "butterball." In just two months she was down to an attractive 115. Letting up too quickly, she gained nine pounds in a month, went back to the diet, dropped back to 115 in two weeks, then to 110. If her weight goes up again, she knows that a few days on the QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET will bring it down again.

MR. D. E.– He was 5'11", weighed 243 pounds and said he felt like an old man. He was only 32. His blood pressure was a dangerous 210/135. In 14 weeks he went down to 183 and his blood pressure dropped to a safer 150/100. He says he feels like a "new man." After holding this interim weight for a while he will lose about 20 pounds more, then stabilize at his ideal weight of 165.

WHY THE DOCTOR'S QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET WORKS

You, too, can lose weight fast. No matter how many times you've tried other diets and failed, this program will work. Everything you need to know is in the book, THE DOCTOR'S QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET. Read it and you will learn:

- How to figure your ideal weight.
- What foods will start you losing at the amazing rate of 5, 10 or even 15 pounds a week.
- Dozens of hearty meat, fish, egg and cheese dishes which you may eat to your heart's content.
- Why this program works where gradual loss programs fail.
- Why calories count, but you don't have to count them.
- How to hold your ideal weight after reaching it.
- Gourmet foods that help you stay slim.
- Facts to help "scare" the fat off you.
- How to help children, teenagers and the elderly to lose weight fast.
- Why overweight people must DIET OR DIE YOUNGER!

READ IT ON THIS "MUST-SLIM" BASIS

Send for the book...read it...put the QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET to work for you. If you aren't 100% satisfied with your weight loss—and satisfied that the loss is permanent—return the book and get your money back. Give it a 10-day trial.

Mail the coupon today. You have everything to gain—better health, greater vitality, a slim, young-looking figure. And nothing to lose but fat!

HAILED BY REVIEWERS

For example, the medical reviewer for King Features Syndicate, himself a physician, writes:

"This is a no-nonsense approach to losing weight: it cannot help but work if you follow the [author's] directions...this book is probably the best medicine as well as the best friend a fat person could ever have...It also offers encouragement along with exercises. These two factors are as important as diet; the three together, written in such a pleasant style, set this particular book apart from being just another diet plan."

"This diet saved my life"

The author, Dr. Irwin Maxwell Stillman, was a "fatty" once himself when he suffered a severe heart attack. Realizing that his life depended on losing 50 pounds fast, he used the Quick Weight Loss Diet to do it. His reducing method saved his own life and has kept him slim and vigorous ever since.

Dr. Stillman is a Diplomate in Internal Medicine, has been Clinical Instructor in Medicine at LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL, and is a Fellow in both the American Geriatric College and the American College of Angiology.

What Kind of Wife

Will Lynda Bird Be?

She's charming, witty, and personable and will probably model herself after the one woman she considers the perfect wife—her mother

By FLORA RHETA SCHREIBER

ON DEC. 9 in the East Room of the White House, President Lyndon Johnson will take a respite from the pressures of his office. That day, he will give away his daughter Lynda, almost 24, to 28-year-old Marine Capt. Charles Spittal Robb.

The foremost question in many people's minds is: What kind of wife will Lynda Bird be? Before you can answer this question, it's essential to know Lynda Bird's personality and background—and, equally important, how they match those of her handsome fiancé.

I've known Lynda since 1960 and have found her to be a vibrant, perceptive, and engaging young woman—yes, even witty. In 1962, for example, she was asked at a reception whether she was the then Vice-President's daughter. Her straight-faced reply was, "I've been known to deny it."

One of the more important attributes for any wife is to see the other person's side and to be fully aware of the other's emotions. Happily for Captain Robb, Lynda has this ability. And like her mother, Lynda remains calm and relaxed when under severe pressure, something President Johnson might tell Robb is most essential of all in a good wife.

How do she and Chuck measure up in the all-important yardsticks of a successful marriage—compatibility, emotional stability, and social and economic backgrounds?

Compatibility is, of course, the cornerstone of any marriage, and judging them upon past academic performances, Lynda and Chuck have much in common.

A government and history major, Lynda was an honor student at the University of Texas. Chuck won a scholarship in engineering at Cornell, but, after his freshman year, when his family moved to their present home in Milwaukee, he transferred to the University of Wisconsin and changed his major to business administration.

"Chuck," says a friend, "is beautifully organized, with a very high but carefully sheathed IQ, a man who knows where he is—and where he is headed. I suspect this is not toward a lifetime in the Marines."

The soon-to-be married couple also share a zest for hard work. "I really like to work," Lynda told me when she was a freshman in college. "If I didn't, I wouldn't have spent the past seven years at the National Cathedral School, which allows little play." An article in her high-school yearbook first twits her about her Texas drawl, then says: "With all her extracurricular activities, one marvels at Lynda's ability to get her homework done—ahead of time, no less."

Chuck not only worked hard at school but at the age of 10, after his family lost a great deal of money in a fruitless real-estate venture, took to selling newspapers. He also caddied to supplement the family's income. Today, however, his family lives comfortably, and his father, a man of great charm and expensive tastes, is a district manager in Milwaukee for an airline.

Chuck has learned his boyhood lessons well. His work in the Marine Corps was so distinguished that six months after basic training, he became the executive Marine officer of the cruiser Northampton, the ship which would be the Presidential command post in time of war. The crew is, of course, an elite group.

Lynda and Chuck also share a love of sports. She likes to ski and is a fairly good marksman. In college, he played par golf and championship volleyball, but at present his sports activities are limited to touch football.

Both bride and groom eagerly read news magazines and are up on current events. Lynda reads books voraciously, but Chuck doesn't read them at all—simply to save time, he says.

If it's important for a husband and wife to share a hobby, then Lynda and Chuck have one—bridge, which brought them together in White House sessions. When Lynda was 17, she spoke to me of her love for bridge and regretted that her father didn't play. One night, however, as she reported it, "Daddy was watching Mother and me. 'How do you play this game?' he suddenly asked. We taught him, and he won the first time he played."

Compatibility also rests in similarity of background, both socially and emotionally. When they attend their son's wedding in the White House, the James Robbs will not be strangers in an awesome place. They long have been a part of the permanent Washingon and Virginia society. Both attended White House receptions when they lived in Georgetown. James Robb's father was for many years secretary to Sen. Henry G. Davis of West Virginia. Frances Robb, Chuck's mother, comes from an old, aristocratic Washington family and lived in the capital before her marriage.

Emotionally, both Lynda and Chuck have had their share of parental devotion, which many experts feel lays a base for a stable marriage. Chuck's Milwaukee friends refer to James and Frances Robb as "the fun parents I wish I had." As for Lynda, her father was never too busy with politics to neglect interest in her appearance, school activities, and views on public issues. Lady Bird's conversations with her were always sprinkled with such words of endearment as "pumpkin," "baby dear," "honey child," or "angel."

More and more, psychologists have come to regard order of birth in the family as a gauge for predicting marital happiness. Both Lynda and Chuck are their parents' first-born and, as such, have the psychologists' stamp of approval for making a go of it together. While Lynda's sibling rivalry was confined just to sister Luci, Chuck is the eldest of four children: Wick, 26, a Navy career man, David, 22, a postgraduate student at the University of Wisconsin, and a 19-year-old sister, Marguerite Trenholm, who will be one of Lynda Bird's bridesmaids.

Lynda and Chuck are used to the big-sister-big-brother role. Lynda always helped Luci with her homework and stood by as a comforter when their parents were away. Chuck has played the protective older brother, particularly to Wick, whose bad eyesight impeded his high-school studies. This can be interpreted to mean that as husband and wife they will give each other strong emotional support and bear the mature responsibilities a family brings.

Lynda brings to her marriage no stereotype image of the "little wife." Her parents have encouraged her to have opinions of her own and to fulfill her individuality as a human being. Unlike her sister, Lynda isn't the least bit domesticated. When Luci married Pat Nugent in 1966, she let it be known that she wanted a large family. Even before marriage, she had displayed an interest in sewing and cooking.

Lynda, however, with a job on a magazine, a flair for politics, and a worldly rather than a domestic orientation will probably always remain a career woman. Her mother has had her own career and so, too, has her future mother-in-law. Mrs. Robb is a fashion illustrator for a four-shop women's apparel chain in Milwaukee, and she also does advertising art on a few free-lance accounts.

The James Robbs and Marguerite (r.) are no strangers to Washington society.

What Lynda will bring to her marriage, besides the wit and wisdom of her own personality, is compassion and understanding. As Katherine Lee, her high-school principal, puts it, "Lynda has great awareness of the suffering in the world, great concern for things to be as right as possible. She has remarkable ability to do the thoughtful thing. And she is very intent on fulfilling the image of what she thinks she should be."

Thoughtfully, for instance, Lynda refused to have a formal debut on the grounds that "my parents are too busy to be pinned down to that much planning."

She probably will do what every young bride does—emulate her mother. The image Lynda has before her is that of a woman who from the day of her marriage has aimed at being a "perfect wife." Lady Bird Johnson always placed her husband's interests before her own. She has been a friend, companion, confidante, and political partner. The President himself says of his wife, "She is never a person who will admit her own pain or ask for mercy. If she has any fault, that is it."

Lynda will probably be equally dedicated but less Spartan. "Daddy worships Mother," she says, "tells her his problems, but he sometimes forgets that she might want to cry on his shoulder." One senses somehow that Lynda might cry on Chuck's shoulder. For, less reserved than her mother, Lynda will more freely express her own emotions.

Lynda and Chuck first got to know each other in mid-July of this year when she spent a weekend as his date with friends at the beach at Rehoboth, Del. Late in July she went to London for a two-week visit. She thought a lot about Chuck in London, where she dated actor George Hamilton, and even bought a tie to bring Chuck as a gift. But instead of giving it to him, she gave it to her father mainly because she wasn't then really certain about how Chuck and she felt toward each other.

She saw Chuck again shortly after returning to Washington. One evening in August of this year they talked until 3 a.m. in the White House solarium, the same room in which Luci met Pat Nugent. That night Lynda and Chuck were certain of their feelings and decided to become engaged.

They knew that he would go to Vietnam soon and would not return until 1969. That was too long to wait, so they chose the December wedding date.

They decided on a furnished apartment for the time left in Chuck's Washington tour. While he is gone, Lynda will take an apartment in New York and continue working, but after Chuck's Vietnam tour, they'll buy a house.

Meantime, as Dec. 9 approaches, Lynda, always one to do her homework, has been reading a book entitled "The Marine Corps Wife." Among the book's many injunctions is that a Marine's wife should remember that her husband is, first of all, married to the Corps.

Easier to swallow is the recommended Marine vocabulary. Before setting off for a vacation in Mexico, Lynda, the perfect Marine Corps wife-to-be, already called her luggage "gear"—an indication that, while every bit the modern woman in career and intellectual involvement, Lynda will be like her mother and most other women—a wife above all. ◆

He's sure to sparkle cheer in your home, in a clubhouse or hospital, or as a feature at a holiday bazaar or party . . . every year for years to come. Enchanting 5-foot 3-dimensional Santa comes in kit containing die-cut pieces of sturdy paper, easily assembled by an ingenious system of interlocking slits and tabs. Makes a wonderful gift. Just $1.

NATIVITY SCENE — Paper sculpture of the scene at Bethlehem includes all the pieces shown here. The figure of Joseph is 16" tall, and the overall height of the scene is 23½". Educational and fun, particularly for children. Kit is easily assembled. Just $1.50. ▶

Dolls this year can do anything—walk, crawl, or chew. "That Kid" by Hasbro talks back—with five sassy phrases. Take his slingshot, for example, and he warns, "The monster will get you!"

What's in Santa's Toy Bag This Year?

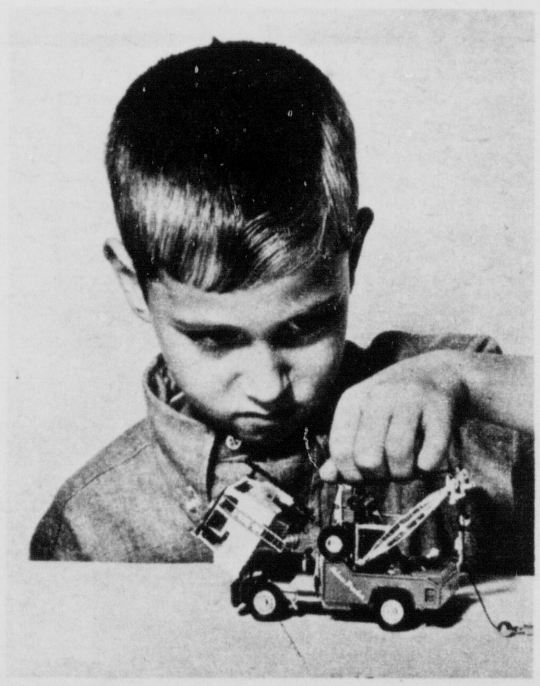

■ ONE OF the joys of being a parent is the excitement of Christmas toy shopping. One of the perils is in choosing the wrong toy, a disappointment for parents as well as for child.

To side-step such disappointment, we've culled some samples of the kinds of toys children will be asking Santa for this year. We based our choices on the new child-tested trends—and on some unchanging criteria for what makes a "good" toy.

Good toys can be played with in more than one way, so a child is not quickly bored. They don't break easily, so a child is not frustrated. They give a child a chance to express his feelings through

Steamed Pumpkin Pudding with apple slices and served with Lemon Zest Crème is an elegant dessert.

Look What 4 Cups of Pumpkin Will Make!

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Steamed Pumpkin Pudding

- 1¼ cups fine dry bread crumbs
- ½ cup sifted regular all-purpose flour
- 1 cup lightly packed brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves
- 2 eggs, fork beaten
- 1½ cups canned pumpkin
- ½ cup cooking or salad oil
- ½ cup undiluted evaporated milk
- Lemon Zest Crème (see recipe)

1. Blend the dry ingredients in a large bowl and set aside.
2. Beat eggs and remaining three ingredients together. Add to dry ingredients; mix until blended.
3. Turn into a well greased 1½-qt. mold. Cover tightly with a greased cover, or tie greased aluminum foil tightly over mold. Steam* about 3 hours.
4. Remove pudding from steamer and unmold onto a serving plate. Decorate plate with drained cinnamon-apple rings, whipped cream, and sugar cubes soaked with lemon extract (see photo). Immediately ignite the sugar cubes. Accompany with a bowl of Lemon Zest Crème.

One 2¼-lb. pudding

*To steam, place mold on trivet or rack in a steamer or deep kettle with a tight-fitting cover. Pour in boiling water to no more than one half the height of mold. Cover steamer; bring water to boiling and keep it boiling at all times. Keep water level at one half the height of mold throughout steaming.

Note: If pudding is to be stored and served later, unmold onto a wire rack and cool thoroughly. Wrap in aluminum foil or return to mold and store in a cool place. Before serving, resteam pudding about 3 hrs., or until thoroughly heated.

Lemon Zest Crème

- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ½ teaspoon ground ginger
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ½ cup chopped walnuts

Cream the butter or margarine with ginger and salt in a bowl. Add the sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice gradually, continuing to beat until blended. Mix in nuts. About 2½ cups crème

FAMILY WEEKLY COOKBOOK

Walnut Pumpkin Loaf Cake

- 2¼ cups sifted cake flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon ground ginger
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs (about ½ cup)
- 1 cup canned pumpkin
- ¼ cup milk
- ¾ cup finely chopped walnuts

1. Thoroughly blend the dry ingredients and set aside.
2. Cream the butter or margarine with extract and peel; add sugar gradually, creaming well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.
3. Alternately add dry ingredients in thirds and a blend of pumpkin and milk in halves, mixing until blended after each addition. With final few strokes, stir in nuts.
4. Turn batter into a greased, bottom only, 9x5x2¾-in. loaf pan; spread into corners.
5. Bake at 325°F. 70 to 75 minutes.
6. Cool 15 min. in pan on wire rack. Remove cake from pan and cool on rack.
7. If desired, sift confectioners' sugar over top. One 9x5-in. loaf cake

Frosted Pumpkin Drops

Prepare one half recipe Walnut Pumpkin Loaf Cake; omit milk. Drop batter by teaspoonfuls onto cookie sheets. Bake at 350°F. 12 to 15 minutes. Spread cooled cookies with butter cream icing or frost as desired. About 3½ doz. cookies

Pumpkin Ice Cream

- 1 cup canned pumpkin
- ⅓ to ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon ground ginger
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 cup chilled heavy cream, whipped

Mix pumpkin with next six ingredients. Fold into whipped cream. Turn into a refrigerator tray; freeze until firm. About 1½ pts. ice cream

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, loss of sleep and a tormenting itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults.

Don't Neglect Slipping FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wobble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. Elizabeth Montgomery:

Happiness Is Being Married to the Boss

By PEER J. OPPENHEIMER

Is it possible for a well-known, popular actress to marry a talented producer-director and make the marriage a successful one —when he's her boss?

For Elizabeth Montgomery and Bill Asher (above right) the answer is a resounding yes! Elizabeth, or Liz as she prefers, star of tv's "Bewitched," married Bill a little more than four years ago. Bill had directed the "Bewitched" pilot and has since taken over the show's production chores.

Liz admits she has changed a great deal since the show started. Why? Partly because she has been able to organize her life into a sort of routine. But the main reason for her transformation from tense actress to calm, earthy professional is that after two unsuccessful marriages Liz now has a solid one.

Some people who knew the "old Liz" questioned whether a husband-wife working relationship was right for her. "Bill and I want to work together," Liz replies. "Some think we never get away from the show, never have a private life. That's true—but it has brought us closer together.

"We go to work together, and when he comes home at night, he comes with me—not to me."

Bill agrees about working together. "It's an advantage," he says. "I know her, I know her capabilities. With another star, you don't always know that."

Liz and Bill have succeeded where countless others have failed —achieving the perfect blend of professional and personal relationships. On the set, Bill is the boss. "I can't get away with anything," Liz says, with obvious pride in her husband. "I don't mind because I have respect for what he says and what he does."

Once, during a shooting session on the "Bewitched" set, Bill publicly berated Liz for acting out a scene as though she were asleep. On the retake, she gave a perfect performance. "He was right again," she says. "He insists on the best."

Just as Bill's critique of his wife is frank, so is his affection. Their coworkers are quite used to their holding hands on the set.

Liz, whose father is former star and director-producer Robert Montgomery, readily admits she is a career woman, but how deeply intertwined her private life and her career are was apparent when her son Robert was born.

Robert's arrival, much like his older brother Billy's, caused Liz a great deal of professional trouble. Production on the show had to be slowed down and scripts rewritten to allow for the baby. After Liz gave birth, doctors advised her to rest six weeks. This left the show in somewhat of a bind.

But 24 days after giving birth, she returned to work. "It was crazy," Liz admits, "because my system was out of tune. But with Bill's help, I made it."

Today Liz and Bill have only one regret—not being with their children as often as they'd like.

But unlike other working mothers, Liz has a long vacation between seasons, which she devotes to her children. Bill is tied up with scripts and is unable to take the family on trips. But as Liz explains, "We have a lovely home so that doesn't matter."

Constant companionship has helped ruin many marriages, but so far, it has failed to derail the Montgomery-Asher express. "We only have problems when we're not together," Liz explains.

Her boss says quite simply, "The feeling is mutual." ◆

Ambush

I saw the empty spot ahead,
The only one in sight,
So up the parking lane I sped

And when I'm 99, I'll hear
The crunch, the crash, the tear
As I hit the brakes—and then the rear
Of the sports car hidden there.

QUIPS AND QUOTES

The doctor had seen the woman's small son through a severe case of chicken pox. When she received his bill, though, she thought it was much too much. She phoned the doctor to complain.

The doctor listened, then said, "But you mustn't forget that I paid six visits to your house while your son had chicken pox."

"I won't forget," the woman said. "But you mustn't forget that he infected the entire fourth grade!" —Dorothea Kent

By the time the average politician finds out he's wrong, he has too many backers to quit.

—Rex Mobley

On Sunday morning, the weary husband, bleary-eyed but determined, made his way downstairs to the kitchen. A half-hour later he returned, carrying a breakfast tray which he carefully set down on the bed before his delighted but astonished wife.

"What a wonderful surprise!" she exclaimed. "The tray is beautiful, darling, and the food looks delicious."

"Then you see everything I've done?" he asked.

"Of course, dear, every detail. Why?"

"Because," the husband said briskly, "this is exactly how I want my breakfast from now on."

—Frances Benson

An elderly American lady, traveling in the Near East, was touched by the sight of a lame beggar.

"Oh, you poor man," she said. "It must be terrible to be lame." Then handing him a large coin, she added, "But, you know, it would be worse if you were blind."

"That's very true, madam," he replied. "When I was blind, I got nothing but slugs." —Flora Rand

The ladies met over coffee. "So you've given up taking those tranquilizers?" the first one asked.

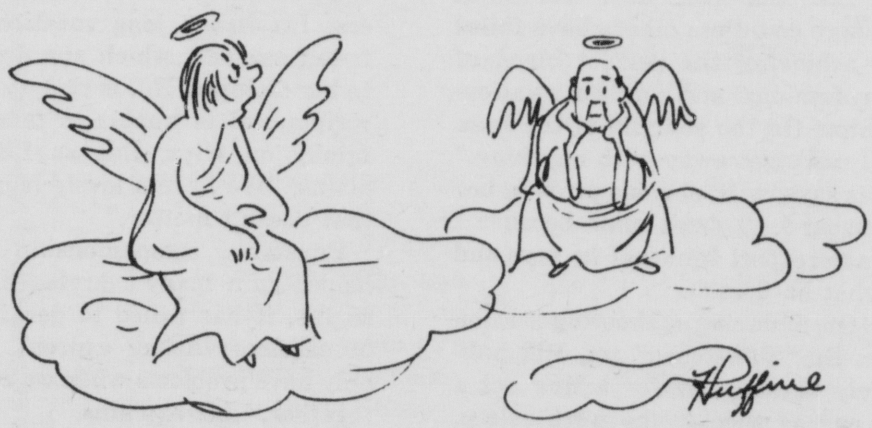

"Yes," her friend replied. "I found myself being pleasant to people I shouldn't even be speaking to." —John M. Williams

Money talks, but these days it takes a lot more of it to hold an audience. —D. O. Flynn

Prescriptions Filled

When a doctor has ended
His day's ministrations,
Do you think he has reached
The end of his patients?

—Joyce K. Megginson

"Well, I always told you, you wouldn't be happy any place!"

I was just thinking...

His Name Is "Big Town"

HE HAD no home, no faith, no future, and no one to love him.

He was proud of all this.

He looked strong and healthy. He said he'd never been sick. Never had a permanent job. Never loved anybody. Never put down a root.

He was a wanderer.

And he was old and tough. His conversation was punctuated with the unprintable. He said exactly what he thought, and he didn't care who heard him say it.

In a way, he was refreshing. For a listener, it was like rising from a forest of polite platitudes into the rarified air of cold, clear honesty, however shocking for conventional lungs.

He was a hobo and I met him only once. I will never forget him because he gave me a special gift he didn't know he had to give away.

I envied his freedom, his knowledge of all the places I never have seen and never will visit. I was jealous of his complete denial of the ties that sometimes bind the spirit, and I admired him for his casual castigation of conforming.

But that's not what he gave me.

I remember his words about sex, which he substitutes for love, and about ancient history, with which he replaces faith, and he used these as a kind of shield against feeling. A man who has so much to fight must be talking simply to convince himself.

He admitted that once he had a family, but he didn't remember much about it and didn't need it. He said he didn't need affection and never gave it. He said he didn't want anyone to care about him or help him.

But last week he sent me a postcard from Idaho, with an affectionate scrawl across it, just as though he were a man off on a little trip remembering the folks back home.

For more than 50 years he has been quietly running away.

And now he's nearly 75 years old, and he hasn't made it yet.

Patty Johnson

Any Hope for the Common Cold?

By CLAIRE SAFRAN

Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman is on a winning streak in his lab. And because of this, the rest of us may soon be able to say good-bye to the sniffles.

Not long ago, FAMILY WEEKLY featured an article on Dr. Hilleman's discovery of a new mumps vaccine. Now comes word of his most recent health breakthrough—a revolutionary way to give our bodies a "false alarm."

By this piece of medical trickery, he can trigger our bodies into producing a substance that may protect us from the common cold and also from a wide range of less common but more deadly diseases.

As head of the research team of the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research in West Point, Pa., Dr. Hilleman has long been aware of a natural, virus-fighting substance known as interferon. Isolated in the lab and injected into animals, interferon proved some 10 years ago that it could ward off a whole spectrum of virus infections.

The price, though, was definitely wrong. The National Institutes of Health calculated that it would cost about $5,000 to manufacture just enough of the substance to prevent only one human cold.

Interferon, though, is a substance that also is produced by the body itself. When body cells are attacked by a virus, they release interferon into the blood to circulate protection to the cells not yet under attack. Interferon works like antibodies do, with the exciting difference that any given antibody works against just a single disease agent and interferon works against an assorted army of them.

The secret that eluded scientists up until now was how to stimulate the body to produce interferon before an actual infection—and without bad side effects. This is what Dr. Hilleman and his team have done.

He reports a substance that masquerades as a virus but without viral effects. It's one of the basic chemicals of life, ribonucleic acid (RNA). Injected, it sends out a false signal that viruses are invading. The body reacts by mobilizing its defensive system of interferon. In this way, it becomes immune to true viruses as well.

So far, researchers have experimented only with mice and rabbits in the lab. But the results have been so dramatic that they're preparing to test it soon on humans.

Interferon gives only short-term immunity. For longer-lasting protection, other researchers are following the vaccine trail.

The research problem is that we have a superabundance of knowledge. As Dr. Robert J. Huebner of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases explains, "Like the old lady who lived in the shoe, we have so many viruses we don't know what to do." Yet he feels that having identified the enemy (or 150 of them) we are ready to fight back.

Some scientists have suggested a one-shot vaccine that would mix from 40 to 100 of these different cold viruses. That sounds good, but each strain would have to be so weakened as to become ineffective.

Dr. Huebner predicts that the first effective vaccine will be for children, who are the ones hit the hardest. It will be made from the viruses that most commonly attack children.

There's good reason for this all-out, double-pronged war on the common cold. Pick any day this winter and you'll find some 20 million people in the United States with running noses, rasping throats, and stuffy, aching heads. These symptoms will happen to nine out of 10 people at least once this year, and to most of us, they'll happen three or four times.

While old wives' tales such as eating garlic capsules and vinegar pickles or chewing raw, seasoned peanuts aren't likely to help cure a cold, Grandma's favorite remedy is still what most doctors prescribe: go to bed, keep warm, drink lots of liquids, and take an aspirin.

That's about the best you can do this winter, and some medical people are pessimistic about being able to do much better in the near future.

But many optimists like Dr. Hilleman say hopefully, "Wait till next year!" ◆

Quick 'n easy with Kraft Pure Orange Marmalade and Betty Crocker Date Bar Mix

1 package Betty Crocker Date Bar Mix
3 eggs
¼ cup Gold Medal Flour
¼ cup Kraft Pure Orange Marmalade
¾ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 cup whole pecans or almonds
1 cup raisins
1 cup or 1 package (8 ounces) candied red or green whole cherries
⅓ cup Kraft Pure Orange Marmalade

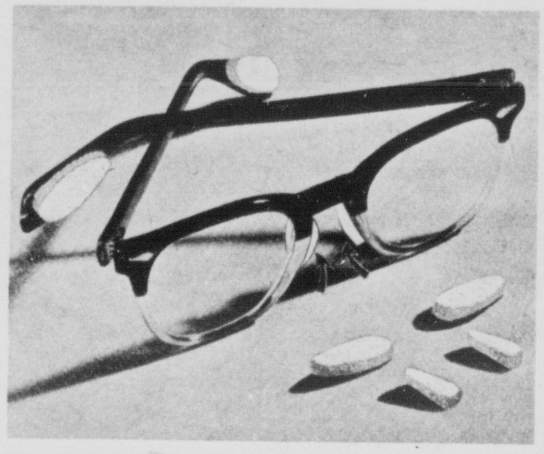

Heat oven to 325°. Grease and flour loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches. In large bowl blend date filling from Date Bar Mix and hot water. Mix in crumbly mix, eggs, flour, ¼ cup orange marmalade, the baking powder and spices thoroughly. Fold in nuts, raisins and cherries. Pour into prepared pan. Bake about 1 hour and 20 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool thoroughly. Wrap and refrigerate. Just before serving, heat ⅓ cup orange marmalade until thin. Spoon over fruitcake. If desired, dip underside of candied fruit pieces in heated marmalade and press fruits on top of cake.

the beauty of Italic handwriting is very largely due to the contrast

Your handwriting can convey all the beauty and charm of the classic Florentine style. Your letters, notes and signature will have a distinction from the commonplace. All it requires is this chisel nib fountain pen, specially made for this purpose, and a little practice. We've found a pen-maker in England who still produces these hard-to-find fountain pens that write broad and fine shaded strokes to reveal your handwriting personality. It's precision made in the best British tradition for complete satisfaction. We include a small booklet of instructions. Find a new pleasure in writing or we refund your purchase price in full.
6169—Italic Pen Set $2.50

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY—When antiquing furniture I found that a baby's cotton tipped stick makes an ideal tool to get into the edgings and to paint the knobs. It also works well for absorbing any excess paint that gets into ridges.—JEANNE

DEAR POLLY—When using a portable mixer which may make a lot of splatters place the bowl in the sink and you will only have the sides of the sink to clean off.—MARY

DEAR POLLY—When a baby comes visiting and you have no stroller to walk the baby in try your laundry cart with a pillow in it. This does a good substitute job and baby is happy when you are pushing him.—RUTH

DEAR POLLY—I bought some carpet samples to catch mud tracked in the back door by little feet. I put adhesive tape (rolled in a circle) on the corners to keep them in place on the floor and hold the corners down. This is easy to pull up from the floor for cleaning.—MRS. R. L. T.

Polly pays a dollar for every idea used. Send them to her, care of this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY—If you do not have a radiator brush try the brush used for wiping snow off of the car windshield. It worked very well on our narrow radiators.—MRS. C. J. L.

DEAR POLLY—To keep from chilling baby at bath time I put the bottle of baby lotion in the warm tub water so that it warms the lotion. This keeps baby from crying at the touch of cold lotion. —CAROL

DEAR POLLY—When skirts are too large and have to be taken in you can do a better and neater job if you put the skirt on wrong side out and then pin to the proper size. Stitch by machine along the pinned lines and no basting will be necessary.—MRS. F. A.

DEAR POLLY—In wet and rainy weather I place a piece of plastic a little larger than the size of my throw rug in front of the door and then put the rug on top of the plastic. As feet are wiped off the plastic catches dirt that falls from the rug and it is easier to clean up.—MARY ANN

DEAR POLLY—Yesterday the usual small callers came to our back door for cookies or candy. Grandpa had just finished popping corn so we made waxed paper cones to hold the corn and fastened them with the wire ties saved from bread. — MRS. C. M. B.
